Attention Hinesburg Record Volunteers Past and Present! Join Us in the July 4 Parade

The Hinesburg Record will initiate its 20th Anniversary celebration by participating in this year's Fourth of July Parade, and we want all past and present Hinesburg Record volunteers to walk with us. This invitation includes people who have written regular columns for the Record (including town and organizational news, etc.) or submitted photographs, those who have written for or helped support School Daze and the Viking Voice, those who have helped with monthly production of The Record and those people currently involved in our 20th Year Anniversary Committee. If you have played a role at any time between 1987 and 2007, this invitation is for you.

To help us organize this event, however, please contact Penny Reed, our July 4 coordinator, and let her know that you plan to walk with us. You may call her at 482-3755 or email her at EIEIO@gmavt.net.

The Hinesburg Record has endured over the last 20 years because of the volunteer efforts of many, many people. Help us demonstrate this commitment visually by joining our walk through Hinesburg on July 4. We want to publicly thank everyone who has contributed to our community newspaper over the last 20 years and sincerely hope you'll walk with us!

Hinesburg Lions Farmers Market to Open Season June 7

By Margery Sharp

It's a colorful sight when 20 plus vendors gather under bright tents and tarps each Thursday from 3:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the Hinesburg United Church grounds to open the Hinesburg Lions Farmers' Market.

With a mixed offering of honey products, baked goods, pies, fresh tomatoes—and cukes, sweet pickles, fresh and dried flower bouquets, ceramic creations and more, the vendors offer a variety of foodstuffs and handmade crafts to the local shoppers and visitors who join in the decidedly carnival atmosphere.

The market, which opens on June 7, marks the fourth consecutive year of operation by members of the Hinesburg Lions Club who volunteer their time and effort to make this weekly event a gala happening.

Many of the market favorites are returning, including Pedro Salas with his honey and candle designs, Katy Hill with dried flowers and knitted items, Mary Fortin and Audrey Horton who offer a variety of pies, cakes and cookies that make it difficult to pass by their table.

Also, produce growers Karolyn Lalumiere, Keenann Rozendaal, Wendy Ordway, James Donegan and Goose Creek Farm representatives are all returning. Other favorites are Samosa Man and the Pakistani Food booth along with Sam and Jim Collins' "Grammy's" butterscotch and ice cream concoctions. In addition this year there will be two meat producers to sell pork and beef.

Anyone interested in becoming a vendor should call 482-3904 or 482-2651 for additional details.

Entertainment Offerings

From time to time, there will be entertainment for the pleasure of both the vendors and customers. Rufus Patrick has (Continued on page 23.)

Open Studio Weekend Saturday & Sunday May 26, 27

By Jean Masseau

Open Studio Weekend has become a spring ritual for those wishing to roam the beautiful Vermont countryside visiting artists' studios to see their work and work spaces. This popular annual event began 15 years ago and has developed into a major arts event drawing visitors from throughout the state and beyond.

Hinesburg has become a popular destination having several artists and a variety of mediums to see within a short driving distance.

Connie Lavallee on Baldwin Road will exhibit pastels and oils in her recently converted barn Blue Heron Studio Gallery. Also on display will be a progression of the different steps of creating a painting.

Marian Willmott on Hayden Hill will display monoprints and share information about her process.

Fiona Cooper Fenwick, also on Hayden Hill will display pastels and oil paintings in her studio gallery.

Sally Merring Reiss on Buck Hill will be showing oil paintings and Jean Carlson Masseau watercolor and gouache paintings, limited edition prints and photography, located on Silver Street. She will also display her steps in creating illustrations for magazines.

This year, the state-wide maps have taken the form of booklets designed to be easier to handle and easier to read. You will find the Hinesburg artists on page 20. The maps can be found at many local stores, including Lantman's Best Buy, Hinesburg Town Hall and the Interstate 89 north and south visitors' centers at Williston. Information is also available at the Craft Council website: www.vermontcrafts.com.

Because most artists work in a studio located within their homes, this is a unique opportunity to get a glimpse into their processes and see the results of their work. Many people find a gold-mine of talent right in their own communities.

Grab a map and a friend and shake off cabin fever by exploring Hinesburg's Open Studios this weekend; Saturday and Sunday 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Follow the large yellow and black "Open Studio" signs.

Hinesburg Fireworks Fund Needs Your Help!

By Jean Isham, HBPA

Three years ago a group of Hinesburg citizens initiated the process to bring back the fireworks, much to the delight of the community. Because the fireworks have been a long standing tradition of Hinesburg's Fourth of July celebration, there was a lot of sadness when they stopped.

The fireworks seem to symbolize the spirit of the community, and like the parade, are attended by a large segment of the population. The fireworks bring much enjoyment to citizens of all ages as well as providing an opportunity for members of the community to come together for a truly fun event.

However, the expense of holding the fireworks display increased with new regulations following the 911 tragedy. It now costs $16,000 to accomplish this event. $8,000 was paid in January of 2007 and another $8,000 is due June 30, $5,000 of which remains to be raised!

You can help by participating in or supporting the golf tournament scheduled for June 2, dropping a donation off at Estey Hardware Store in Firehouse Plaza, or mailing your check (payable to Hinesburg Fourth of July Fund) c/o Estey Hardware, 22 Commerce Street, #1, Hinesburg, VT, 05461. Remember, all donations, small and large, do make a difference.

A big thank you goes out to the hardworking Fourth of July Fireworks Committee—Doug and Patti Mead, David and Roni Estey, Brad and Sue Wainer, Judy Fritz, and Scott and Kristin Stough.

Hinesburg, Richmond, Williston, and St. George signed an agreement on October 18, 1991 to officially purchase 171 acres of wilderness and beach front property at the north end of Lake Iroquois. The towns had previously voted to the purchase at their town meetings in 1990. Prior to the purchase an agreement was made (late 1940's) for the four towns surrounding the lake to use the beach for a fee of $1.00 per year. This allowed for public swimming and Red Cross swimming lessons. In 1990 Mrs. Kathryn Beebe offered the sale of the property to the four towns. Robert Bast (pictured above with Mrs. Beebe) was among the selectmen who signed the agreement at a ceremony at the Lake Iroquois Beach forming the Lake Iroquois Municipal District. Mrs. Beebe died on April 13, 2007 in Bellows Falls. Photo by June T. Giroux

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Local Task Forces Still Accepting Volunteers

I am writing to remind our community that there are four Hinesburg task forces doing very exciting work for the town, and anyone who wants to join one is very welcome to participate—help is needed since more can be accomplished with more participants. Please consider volunteering to help!

During the fall of 2006, the Vermont Council on Rural Development (VCRD) conducted a Community Visit in Hinesburg, and four task forces were established to work on important issues to make Hinesburg even a better place to live. The task forces are Sustainability and Energy Planning, Multigenerational and Teen Center, Buy Local Campaign and Specialty Farming, and Farm Conservation.

The Sustainability and Energy Planning group is co-chaired by Dawn and Kevin Francis (482-2719), and some highlights of their work are the Hinesburg Light Switch Project, a town wide energy use assessment, and looking at public transportation options.

The Multigenerational and Teen Center group is chaired by Bill Neil (482-2284) and is visiting and gathering information on other centers around Vermont, and has conducted both a town wide survey and a survey of over 100 Hinesburg middle school students.

The Buy Local Campaign and Specialty Farming group is chaired by Bill Schubart (482-3287) and is working to establish a "Buy Local" campaign, strengthen the Hinesburg Farmer's Market, create community gardens, and study carbon farming.

The Farm Conservation group is chaired by Chuck Ross (482-4833) and is working on ways to assist and support owners of agricultural and forest land, including a survey to identify the landowner's goals. Agricultural and forestry experts in Vermont will also be surveyed.

There are exciting issues that relate to more than one of the task forces. An overarching goal of their work is to find ways to save money for town residents and government and also identify ways residents can improve their standard of living. Please contact any of the chairs at the phone numbers above. The town's website also has information on all of the task forces and their work to date at: (<http://www.hinesburg.org/taskforce.html>).

Please consider helping if you are not already. To everyone who is on a task force, thank you so much for your work.

— Carl Bohlen, VCRD Community Visit Chair

Lippert – Hero to Many

Having just finished my third session in the Vermont House, I've been very pleased to represent two areas of Hinesburg and to hear from residents in those parts of town on a variety of issues. However, I write this for all Hinesburgers because I feel it is important for everyone in Town to consider the character of Hinesburg's more senior representative in the Vermont House. I didn't speak with him about writing this because I know he would have asked me not to, but I am moved, by recent events, to write this anyway.

Bill Lippert, of course, is known for not shying away from difficult issues, indeed, he has often allowed himself to be placed in the middle of some of the most hotly debated issues of the past decade. Bill, in chairing the House Judiciary Committee, has continued his reputation of stepping up to difficult challenges Vermont must face. In this role, he has always maintained a style of openness and fairness while trying to accommodate a wide range of points of view. While all legislators experience criticism from time to time, Bill has endured more than his share, and far too often this has been personal and lacking in much sense of decency. Despite this, Bill has always maintained personal courage, and a calmness and level head that makes others of us wonder at his ability to stay focused and not be intimidated or deterred from truly and honestly addressing the issues.

In my few years at the Statehouse, I've seen displayed, from Bill Lippert, some of the best of Vermont's political tradition of common sense and decency, succeeding over the political hyperbole and grandstanding which too frequently drive the debate of issues in other states and in Washington. We all should be most proud that we have, representing Hinesburg, one of the true champions of this which makes Vermont a quiet leader, for all, of the good which can be done in our society.

I, personally, am honored to be in the Vermont House at a time when I can call Bill my friend and colleague, and although he would find it embarrassing, I have to say that he is also a hero to many of us.

— Representative Scott A. Orr
Charlotte-Hinesburg

Letter Policy

The Hinesburg Record welcomes letters from local residents and from others who are involved in issues that affect our town.

Letters should be brief. We do not have precise guidelines for length but reserve the right to edit based on available space.

All letters must be signed. To the extent possible, letters should focus on local issues. Other forums exist for discussion of statewide, national, and international issues.

With these cautions, please keep those letters rolling in. Mail them to The Hinesburg Record, P. O. Box 340 or to 327 Charlotte Road, Hinesburg, VT 05461, deliver them to the Record drop-box on Charlotte Road, or send via email to therecord@gmavt.net.

Albert Joseph Barber

Albert Joseph Barber, 89, died Wednesday, May 9, 2007, at his home. He was born on January 22, 1918, in Waterbury, the son of the late Albert J. and Edna (Arnold) Barber.

Mr. Barber was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army in the Pacific and in Korea. He married Mildred Inez Shea on Feb. 19, 1938, in Holy Rosary Church in Richmond.

Albert was employed as a ski lift inspector for the State of Vermont. He was a member of St. Jude Catholic Church in Hinesburg. He served as chairman of the St. George Selectboard for 18 years. Albert enjoyed skiing, hunting, building and racing "fast" cars.

He is survived by his wife, Mildred Inez (Shea) Barber of St. George; his children, Larry Barber and his wife, Ann of Williston, Elaine Bergin and her husband, George of Essex Junction, Alton Barber and his wife, Diane of Hinesburg, and Holly Hall and her husband, Stuart of Bolton; 11 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by a daughter, Melody Ann Barber; his brothers, Clifton and Everett Barber; and his sisters, Mildred Brunell, Anita Fordham and Edna Lawrence.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated on May 14, 2007, at St. Jude Catholic Church in Hinesburg. Burial followed in Holy Rosary Cemetery in Richmond. Donations may be made in his memory to the Hinesburg Fire Department, P.O. Box 12, Hinesburg, Vt. 05461 or St. Jude Church, 10759 Route 116, Hinesburg, Vt. 05461. Arrangements are by Gifford Funeral Service, 22 Depot St., Richmond.

NOTICE

Vacancies on Development Review Board (Alternate), Recreation Commission, Conservation Commission, Village Steering Committee

There are currently vacancies on the Hinesburg Recreation Commission, the Hinesburg Conservation Commission, the Village Steering Committee and the Development Review Board Alternate.

As part of the Selectboard's Policy for Appointments to Boards and Commissions, notice of expiring terms and vacancies must be published and posted. Individuals interested in an appointment, incumbents and newcomers alike, must write or appear before the Selectboard to express their interest in an appointment. Selection of an applicant is at the discretion of the Selectboard. In the case of a Board or Commission, an effort shall be made to create or maintain a balance of views that is representative of the community. The Selectboard will also consider an applicant's qualifications, level of interest, and potential conflicts of interest as they pertain to the duties of the appointment under consideration.

To find out more about these opportunities and/or to express your interest in an appointment please call Town Administrator Jeanne Wilson at 482-2096, email hinesburgtown@gmavt.net, or write to: Hinesburg Selectboard, Attn: Jeanne Wilson, PO Box 133, Hinesburg, VT 05461.

Water and Wastewater Fees to Increase

By Rocky Martin

The Selectboard, acting as Board of Water and Wastewater Commissioners, has proposed an increase in the Wastewater Allocation Charge as well as increases to both the Water and Wastewater Connection Fees. All of these fees apply to new development during the planning/permitting stages and when new connections are made to the municipal systems. An allocation charge is collected when a proposed project has received sketch plan approval and is valid for a three year period of time. This ensures the developer that adequate wastewater treatment capacity is available and reserved for the project.

Currently the Allocation Charge is $2.38 per gallon per day or $500 for a single family home. The proposed increase is to $7.143 per gallon per day or $1500 for a single family home. Connection fees for both water and wastewater are collected when a new project connects to either system.

The connection fee for the Water system is currently $525 and for Wastewater $250. Connection fees are proposed to be $1000 for each system. Public comment on these proposed fee increases will be received at the June 4 Selectboard meeting at 7:00 p.m. in the ground floor conference room at Town Hall.

Increases in the user rates for both systems are not proposed at this time but are under consideration.

Task Force News Hinesburg Farm and Forest Task Force Sees Time to Sow...

By Kate Schubart

Last fall Hinesburg residents met as part of the Vermont Council on Rural Development's Community Visit Program. Once again we expressed our keen and longstanding interest in supporting agricultural and forestry activities in our town. Hinesburg values the defining role agriculture and forestry has played and continues to play in shaping Hinesburg.

This commitment was also made clear in recent meetings pertaining to Hinesburg's newly revised Town Plan, when the town once again affirmed its support for active agricultural and forest land use. Whether from the current users of the land who are creating agricultural and forest products of value or local homeowners, the voices of Hinesburg affirm a nearly universal interest in maintaining Hinesburg's rural heritage and productive agricultural and forest land use.

Of all the issues that surfaced at the Vermont Council on Rural Development meetings last fall, the threat to agriculture and related productive land use emerged as one of the four main concerns. This led to the formation of what is now called the Hinesburg Farm & Forest Task Force.

The Farm & Forest Task Force is composed of interested citizens. They established at their initial meeting a provisional goal of "providing financial information and technical assistance to farmers and landowners as they face difficult decisions around the future use of their lands in the town." The emphasis is on finding valuable ways to help landowners who wish to maintain their land in open, agricultural and forestry uses rather than using it for other purposes such as housing.

The Farm & Forest Taskforce, chaired by Chuck Ross, has now met four times. The mission statement created at the first meeting states concisely that our goal is to: "Leverage the community's interest in maintaining the viability of the farm and forest land in the Town by providing resources of value to landowners."

Since the interest of the Farm & Forest Task Force is to work with landowners to help maintain these valuable agricultural, forest and open land resources, one of our first jobs is to conduct a survey of interested landowners. Once the survey is complete, we will be better able to understand the goals landowners have in terms of land use, the land resources they manage and how the town may assist in helping them retain their land in open, agricultural and forest land uses.

The Farm & Forest Task Force will begin survey interviewing with interested landowners this summer. If you would like to be one of those interviewed, please call Chuck Ross at 482-4833 or email him at chuckr@gmavt.net. No names or other identifiers will be attached to the data collected, which will be compiled into a general report.

The members of the task force are: Jean Isham, Matt and Dan Baldwin, Jon Trefry, Kate Schubart, Marianne and Scott Brunetto, Colin McNaull, Tom Dillon and Geoff Gevalt. We would welcome more engaged residents, especially landowners who have conserved or are considering conservation of land through agricultural, forestry and related uses. As is the practice for all the Town task forces, contact information and the meeting schedule and reports are available at the Town website, <http://www.hinesburg.org>.

Hinesburg Man Lodged for Domestic Assault

James Morgan, 24, of Sunset Lake Villa was lodged in jail by Officer Mike Wharton after an alleged domestic dispute at his residence. Morgan is accused of assaulting his wife at their home on April 16.

Hinesburg Woman Cited For DLS, Again!

On April 14, Deputy Chief Fred Silber observed Melinda Morgan, 25, of Sunset Villa, Hinesburg, driving. Morgan had been charged several weeks prior, by another Hinesburg officer, with Criminal DLS and Providing False Information to a Police Officer. She will answer the charge in District Court in Burlington.

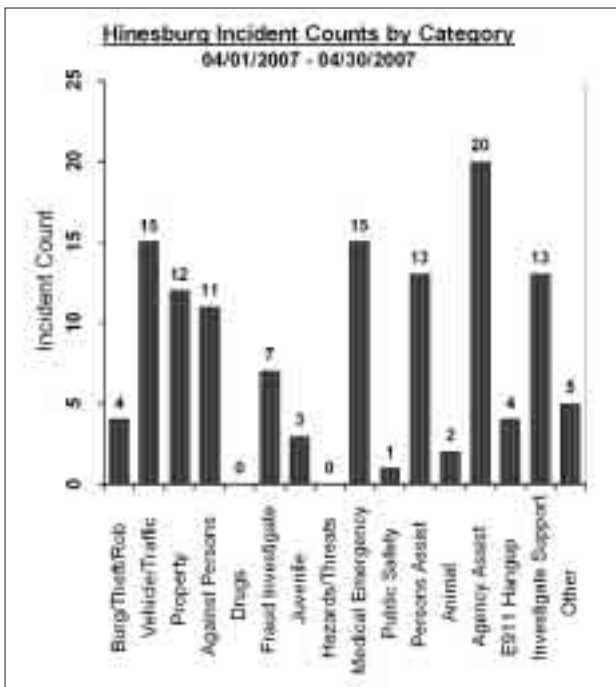

Man Charged In Forgeries

A scheme to defraud a local Hinesburg store was unraveled by Officer Mike Wharton. It is alleged that Corey Paya, 26, of Starksboro was using forged bottle redemption slips to get cash from a cashier. Paya presented five redemption slips over a period of time extending from February to April. At one point Paya cashed in one slip for almost a thousand bottles. Wharton cited Paya and he will answer the charge in District Court.

End of Shift Crash Injures Woman

A South Burlington woman suffered injuries in a spectacular crash at 10:57 p.m. on April 16. Officer Mike Wharton reported that Valerie Huizenga, 24, of South Burlington was traveling northbound on Vermont Route 116 when she lost control of her car near Friendship Lane. The car left the road struck a highway sign and overturned. The impact hurled a speed sign into the side wall of a nearby home and sprayed mud to the peak of the roof.

Huizenga was extricated from her demolished vehicle by Hinesburg firefighters and transported to Fletcher Allen Hospital for treatment. Wharton charged Huizenga with operating a vehicle while intoxicated and she will answer the charge in District Court.

Starksboro Man Charged With Six Counts of Forgery

Officer Mike Wharton has charged Rocky Racicot, 27, with cashing six stolen checks at stores in Hinesburg. The loss to merchants was about $1000. In addition, Wharton solved multiple forgery cases for authorities in Richmond and Huntington, where Racicot also cashed the checks which he had stolen from his mother.

Hinesburg Man Facing Four Counts of Forgery

Joshua Emmons, 21, of Hinesburg is facing four counts of forgery. Officer Mike Wharton reported Emmons cashed four checks totaling $550. It is alleged that Emmons stole the checks from his father and cashed them at a local Hinesburg store during the end of March and beginning of April.

Traffic Stop Turns Into a Double Header

On May 8 Chief Chris Morrell made two arrests for Criminal Driving While Suspended on a single traffic stop on CVU Road. Morrell stopped a pickup truck being operated by James Abbey, 24, of Hinesburg and a routine computer check of the department of motor vehicles showed him to be criminally suspended. A computer check of his passenger, Travis Norris, 28, also of Hinesburg, showed he had an outstanding warrant for failing to appear on a previous Criminal Driving While Suspended charge.

Abbey was cited to appear at a later date. Norris was transported to jail where he was allowed to post $200 bail and then released.

During the month of April, the fire department responded to a total of 36 emergency calls, as follows:

EMS First Response (excluding motor vehicle crashes): 24
 Motor Vehicle Crashes: 6 Structure Fires*: 3
 Fires Outside of a Structure: 1 Other Rescue: 1
 Fire or Carbon Monoxide Alarm Activations: 1

* "Structure Fires" category includes any real or potential fires within a building, such as chimney fires, and odors of smoke inside a building, but excludes alarm system activations.

Structure Fire on Richmond Rd.

On the afternoon of Wednesday, April 11, the fire department responded to a structure fire at Marx Auto Body on Richmond Road. Hinesburg Fire Department members arrived to find a structure already well involved in fire.

The fire was fought with mutual aid assistance from Starksboro, Charlotte, and Richmond Fire Departments. Unfortunately the structure was lost despite the efforts of the fire fighters present, but a serious explosion of two large, full propane tanks located adjacent to the structure was avoided. Richmond Rescue was dispatched to the fire as a backup ambulance since St. Michael's Rescue was not available when the call was initially dispatched and remained on scene until the fire was extinguished to handle any potential injuries. Fortunately there were no injuries at the incident and no one needed to be transported to the hospital. Richmond Fire Department covered the Hinesburg station with an engine to handle any additional calls that may have come in while all of Hinesburg Fire Department's resources were tied up at the fire.

Dog Rescue on Sunset Lake

Midday Tuesday, April 10, the Hinesburg Fire Department responded to a report of a dog trapped partially on the ice on Sunset Lake. Department members were able to get to the slightly shocky canine using a row boat, and then the dog was turned over to Assistant Chief and vet Rich Armstrong who transported her to the Animal Hospital of Hinesburg where she was warmed and a little later returned to her owner in good shape. While saving a dog's life is not quite the same as saving a person, many of us pet owners can attest to just how much a part of our family they are, and returning someone's animal to safety is a pretty rewarding experience.

Patient Extricated

Late on Monday night April 16, the Hinesburg Fire Department was dispatched along with St. Michael's Rescue to a reported motor vehicle crash on Rt. 116 near Friendship Lane. Upon arrival crews found an SUV that had rolled over and come to rest on its side, nearly hitting a house, with the driver trapped. Members freed the patient from the vehicle using vehicle extrication tools and immobilized the patient for transport to the hospital.

Live Fire Training in Charlotte

On Saturday, April 21, several Hinesburg Fire Department members went to Charlotte to participate in a live fire training session in a donated house near the lake. It was a beautiful day to be outside. Firefighters from Hinesburg joined colleagues from Shelburne, Charlotte, Ferrisburg, and South Burlington in running through training scenarios dealing with fires inside of the structure. Small crews advanced lines into the building, observed the growth of the fire in the room, and then "knocked the fire down" before exiting the building for the next group to enter. Thermal Imaging Cameras (TIC's) were also used. TIC's are an incredibly useful tool in smoky situations. Among other things, they enable fire fighters to see the hot areas of the fire, to see where other crew members are, and to potentially find trapped occupants. Hinesburg has two of these devices, both of them acquired through grant funding. TIC's are increasingly becoming a standard tool in the fire service across the country.

Help Us Help You

Hinesburg Fire Department EMT's respond to dozens of EMS calls each month. Many of these calls are to patients with extensive medical histories and medication lists. It is important that EMT's and the Emergency Room doctors have a correct and complete listing of a patient's medical history and medications to ensure adequate treatment. It is always helpful to have an accurate, up-to-date, and complete list available for reference. Having copies of this list available is even better. One option available from the Hinesburg Fire Department to help encourage this is called the File of Life. File of Life packages include a sheet for recording medical and medication information and a magnetic holder to attach to the refrigerator. If you are interested in obtaining a File of life package, please contact a fire department member or email info@hinesburgfd.org.

There continues to be a good response to the street number sign program. However any drive around town reveals many examples of poor house numbering that hinder emergency response. Keep in mind that a number facing the street is not sufficient when responding to a call at night since headlights won't shine on it. Also, numbers facing only one direction may work for the mailman, but emergency responders may be approaching from either end, so it is important that the house numbering be visible from both travel directions on the road. Also keep in mind that during inclement weather conditions finding numbers can be even more difficult since rain and snow can obscure them, and it is important to clear off your street number sign as you are clearing your driveway of snow. If you are interested in ordering a sign installation from the Hinesburg Fire Department (a good example of which can be seen when driving by our station!), please contact an Hinesburg Fire Department member or send an email to info@hinesburgfd.org.

A Weekend of Stone Wall and Garden Artistry in Hinesburg

“Between Imagining and Knowing” – June 22 through June 24

“The handling of stone sets me squarely between imagining and knowing,” says Dan Snow, master drystone waller and author of In the Company of Stone, of his stone works, which range from the functional to the spiritual but always echo the ancient.

Firepit by Dan Snow.

On Friday, June 22, through Sunday, June 24, come learn more about Snow’s work and take a walking tour of the Gardens of Lewis Creek. The event begins on Friday evening at 7:00 p.m. with Stone Rising, a film about Snow’s work.

Snow, a master drystone waller for over 30 years, earned his certification in the prestigious Dry Stone Walling Association of Great Britain, a rare honor for an American. His work has appeared in many publications including This Old House, Garden Design, and American Nurseryman. His book In the Company of Stone: The Art of the Stone Wall was published in 2001. The hour-long film will be shown in the Hinesburg town hall, followed by a discussion with Snow and the film’s producer.

Both Saturday and Sunday, the Gardens of Lewis Creek will open to the public. Stone work is a prominent landscape feature in 6 of the 7 gardens on the tour. The Pierce/McNaull Garden, which has drawn visitors from around the country, features an upper and lower garden joined by a cascading watercourse as well as a sunken stone-walled garden nearly hidden by Ilex hedges and perennial beds.

The Roomet garden, for those who are putting in new gardens, is a study in making the new look old again. When the Roomets decided to move their 208-year-old house off of a busy road and 300 feet to the east, the garden went with it. Relocation posed interesting gardening challenges as existing stone, brick, fencing and plants were also moved to the new site and incorporated into the design.

On Saturday, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Snow will be leading a stone wall construction seminar. The students will learn while they build a permanent wall at the entrance to one of Hinesburg’s most popular walking trails. Garden tour visitors are welcome to observe the progress of the wall throughout the day as Snow comments and answers questions.

At 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, learn how to plan, plant and maintain a field of wildflowers. And at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, attend a demonstration by Brian Gluck, owner of Rustic Cedar, on crafting cedar garden structures that can be incorporated into gardens for growing vines or for creating a hidden getaway.

On Sunday at noon, follow Peter Hope, biology instructor at St. Michael’s College, on a Fern Walk along Lewis Creek. And at 2:00 p.m. Meg Foster will lead a workshop on making a caste of your favorite Hosta leaf.

For more information, call 482-2118 or visit HinesburgLandTrust.org. The cost for the weekend-long event is $20 in advance or $25 on the day of the event. All proceeds benefit the Hinesburg Land Trust.

Hinesburg Light Switch Adds Some Green to Green Up Day

By Wendy Patterson

More than 200 people showed their interest in energy efficiency when they turned out for the Kick Off Event for Hinesburg Light Switch, a project of the Hinesburg Sustainability and Energy Planning Task Force. The event was held on Green Up Day, Saturday, May 5 in Hinesburg with festivities at Estes as well as at the Town Hall Bar-B-Q.

An array of brochures, fun demonstrations of electricity use, free Ben & Jerry’s ice cream, and packets of Green Mountain Coffee Roasters coffee, were extra perks for coming out on a beautiful day. Koval’s and Lantman’s donated equipment and supplies.

The Light Switch Project is a challenge for Hinesburg to reduce electricity usage by switching out old incandescent bulbs for the much more energy efficient and cost saving compact fluorescent bulbs. Light Switch has a goal of seeing 6000 bulbs replaced through out Hinesburg’s 1600 households.

In cooperation with Efficiency Vermont, the 10%Challenge (www.waytogovt.org), and Estes Hardware, the Project is able to promote the sale of specially priced compact fluorescent bulbs (CFL’s) for 99 cents for the three basic spiral styled bulbs. There is special pricing on a variety of other styles as well, all of which will continue to be available in the coming Spring and Summer months.

Throughout the month of May, raffle tickets are available at Estes for a chance to win a Neuton Cordless Electric Mower, on display at the store in Hinesburg. The winner will be announced at the drawing on May 31.

Because gasoline powered mowers and trimmers produce carbon emissions that far exceed those of cars, this mower is an excellent way to reduce pollution as you maintain your lawn over the summer. It is also very quiet.

The 10% Challenge (waytogovt.org) and Country Homes Products made this item available for the Raffle.

Raffle tickets for the Neuton Mower are available at Hinesburg's Estey's Hardware at the counter for $1 each or 6 for $5.

HINESBURG RECREATION DEPARTMENT NEWS

By Jennifer McCuin

Spring has sprung! The fields are green, the sun is shining (well, it is right now) and the kids are playing Tee Ball, Farm League, and Lacrosse on our fields. What an awesome sight! Thanks to all of our volunteer coaches for all of our teams, we have approximately 130 kids participating in the Spring Sport recreation programs. Ahhh, it's a great feeling!

Don't forget about the summer activities. If you need a refresher on what's available, read on...there is lots to do this summer. Here's the Nestech Summer Concert Series schedule for our Wednesday evening concerts behind Hinesburg Community School.

Nestech Concert in the Park

- July 11 - Empty Pockets
- July 18 - Mansfield Project
- July 25 - Gordon Stone Band
- August 1 - Blues for Breakfast
- August 9 - Hinesburg Community Band*

Hinesburg's Newest Restaurant ...
 The Paisley Hippo Sandwich
 Shop

By Jean Isham, HBPA

John Gottelmann, who, with his wife, Karen, formerly owned the Storm Cafe in Middlebury, brings his culinary talents to Hinesburg with the opening of The Paisley Hippo Sandwich Shop in Firehouse Plaza.

My first question was where did the name come from? John's wife was rummaging through the third floor of her parents' home in Massachusetts when she came across a stuffed paisley hippo that her sister had made in a craft class. She threw the hippo at John and the name just "stuck." Since the present restaurant is a little more low key than their former cafe, they felt it was time "to let the Paisley Hippo out."

The search for the right location started with the sale of the Middlebury business. Faced with a three year non-compete clause within fifteen miles of Middlebury, and living in Ripton, they decided they wanted to go north instead of south. The present Hinesburg location provided the best scenario, being a small town and not too far from their home.

Their previous restaurant had a staff of twenty and involved a tremendous amount of work. They were looking to simplify and spend more time with their family which includes two sons, John David, age 7, and Timothy, age 5.

John and Karen are both graduates of the Culinary Institute of America. John worked in a sub shop on and off for four years before attending culinary school. Both John and Karen worked in restaurants in California, New Jersey and Massachusetts prior to coming to Vermont. John said they love Vermont and being able to spend some time other than working and commuting.

The Paisley Hippo Sandwich Shop brings variety to Hinesburg's restaurant scene. More than a sandwich shop, specialties include five different cheese steaks (my favorite – vegetarian with Portobello mushrooms), chicken tenders, juicy burgers, wings and wraps as well as traditional and innovative sandwiches. Homemade soups, another of John's specialties, and salads, add to the menu along with weekly specials.

A familiar face at the restaurant is Eric Lylis, formerly manager for Grace's On the Go Bistro, and now manager for the Paisley Hippo.

Plans are underway for a website where patrons can easily access the menu and, of course, menus are available for pickup at the restaurant. You can call the Paisley Hippo at 482-2345. The restaurant is open Monday through Saturday from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

John is looking forward to meeting members of the Hinesburg community.

Red Wagon Plants Opens
 Retail Store

Julie Rubaud, owner of Red Wagon Plants in Hinesburg is pleased to announce the opening of their new retail greenhouse located at 2408 Shelburne Falls Road. Red Wagon Plants offers organically certified vegetable seedlings and herb plants, as well as a great assortment of annuals and perennials. This will be the first time that Red Wagon Plants are offered directly for retail sales at the greenhouses.

A special emphasis of this organic business is the promotion of local food production. Red Wagon Plants strives to encourage the public to eat locally by growing their own food, thereby reducing dependence on distant food sources. Many heirloom and endangered varieties of food crops will be offered from Seed Savers Exchange.

The brand new retail greenhouse offers a relaxing atmosphere with beautiful displays, inspired by each week's varying bursts of colors, textures, flavors and fragrances. A friendly and knowledgeable staff will be on hand to discuss gardening questions pertaining to everything from kitchen gardens to porch containers.

Also on hand will be landscaping services provided by Queen City Soil and Stone. Samples of stone work will be on display around the retail greenhouse featuring local stone that is both affordable and readily available. The perennials and annuals selected by the grower are meant to compliment this local and native aesthetic.

Red Wagon Plants is owned and operated by Julie Rubaud, with 14 years experience in growing seedlings and vegetables. Rubaud formerly co-owned a plant and vegetable business out of the Intervale in Burlington and more recently in Starksboro. The newly expanded Red Wagon Plants is located on land owned by the Ross family of Hinesburg, adjacent to the Taproot Horse Farm. Hours of operation will be everyday 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. beginning May 1. Please call for directions or more information.

Dr. James Ulager, M.D. will join the staff at Hinesburg Family Health in July.

Hinesburg. Highest on his list were Dr. George and Dr. Reynolds. Dr. Ulager said it is well known that they are "great folks who do a great job for their patients." As a Resident at Fletcher Allen Health Care, he worked with them in caring for their patients. He found that the practice has an excellent staff who enjoy their work and help to make the practice run smoothly. The location was ideal, being close to Burlington but not in the middle of everything. It also provides convenient access to many specialists as their patients' needs may require.

Dr. Ulager grew up in western Pennsylvania, an area much like Vermont at that time. Unfortunately, it is now heavily developed. He attended Notre Dame University in Indiana and medical school in Philadelphia. Dr. Ulager met his wife, Dr. Alicia Veit, when they were in medical school. His specialty is family practice and Dr. Veit is a pediatrician. They found that Fletcher Allen Health Care offered the family medicine training that he sought and also had an excellent pediatric program. It was a natural fit. They will both complete their residencies in June, and Dr. Ulager will join Dr. George and Dr. Reynolds in July.

Both Dr. Ulager and Dr. Veit love the outdoors, particularly hiking and camping. When they became engaged, his wife did not want a diamond ring so he bought her a canoe, dubbed by his mother-in-law as "the 'I do' canoe." In addition, he enjoys gardening and biking. Completing their family is three month old daughter, Anna, who has already been introduced to some of her parents' outdoor activities.

Dr. Ulager is excited about working in Hinesburg and I'm sure the community will be delighted to welcome him.

Upcoming Events

Author Event

Please join us Tuesday, June 5, 6:30 p.m. with Linda Furiya, author of Bento Box in the Heartland: My Japanese Girlhood in Whitebread America for this special book talk about her food memoir which describes her childhood in rural Indiana. Linda Furiya is a local author, culinary creator and mother, whose latest book has garnered much nationwide attention and praise. Bento Box has been nominated by YALSA (Young Adult Library Services Association) for their Alex award because of its special appeal to young adults, ages 12 to 18. (Moms may want to read the book with their daughters, and then make the recipes together.) We recommend the book, which offers many insights into culture, racism, identity as well as culinary delights. We hope you are able to attend this free author event with a book signing to follow. Older children and adults are welcome. Call 482-2878 for information.

Summer Movie Nights

Friday night is movie night at Carpenter-Carse. Come to the library and enjoy a great flick. Mark your calendars now! Friday, June 1 is Family Movie Night, from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. The feature will be Yellow Submarine, rated G. Friday, June 22 is YA Movie Night from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. (movie TBA)

Hinesburg Pickin' Party Moves to Friday Night

Join your friends and neighbors for an evening of music and fun. Stop in to play or just to listen on Friday, June 8 at 7:00 p.m. Recommended for teens through adult. For more information call Tom Stamp at 482-2878.

Books on Wheels

The bookmobile hits the road on June 25. Our expanded collection of books for all ages will be visiting the following neighborhoods each Monday through August 6:
Mountain View at 9:00 a.m.
Triple L at 10:00 a.m.
Sunset Lake Villa at 11:00 a.m.

Summer Reading Program

This summer we are celebrating all things mysterious with "Get a Clue @ Your Library," our theme for the summer reading program. Children of all ages can set a goal for the number of books they wish to read during the summer, and then record the titles on a reading record as they complete each book. Pre-readers may record books read to them. The reading program runs through August 31. Parents and children should stop by the library to register and receive a reading record, a bookmark and a certificate signed by Private Interior Redecorator Thorn Ripley.

Summer Reading Club

Join Tom and Judy on June 20 from 10:30 a.m. 'til noon for Book 'em Danno! We'll make Detective ID's and Secret Code Books. There will be games, snacks, and of course, stories about detectives. For more summer fun, watch for these other club programs:

- June 27 - A Nose for Crime – featuring Hinesburg Police Chief Chris Morrell
- July 11 - I Spy: codes and ciphers
- July 18 - Web Files: puppet show and scavenger hunt
- July 25 - Masters of Disguise
- August 1 - Uh-oh, a UFO!
- September 7 - Swing Peepers: End of Summer Celebration (6:30 start time for this program only)

Summer Reading Club meets from 10:30 a.m. 'til noon and is for children six to 12. The reading club requires a separate registration for each weekly program. Sign-up begins on June 4 and space is limited, so call for availability.

Get a Clue @ Your Library Kick-off Party

Get ready for a summer full of reading fun with the Red Wing Puppet Theatre. What kind of secrets do puppets keep? Find out in this fast-paced program featuring puppetry, juggling, live music and physical comedy. Don't miss this Show! It is sure to be a highlight of our summer programs. Friday, June 15 at 6:30 p.m.

YNK: Summer Reading Club for Teens

YNK – You Never Know – is the summer reading theme for teens. Join Tom on Mondays from 1:00 p.m. 'til 4:00 p.m. for Internet challenges, games and a whole lot more. Registration begins on June 4 and space is limited, so call for availability. Meeting dates are June 25, July 9, 23 and 30

Quotation of the Month

"As a child, one has that magical capacity to move among the many eras of the earth; to see the land as an animal does; to experience the sky from the perspective of a flower or a bee; to feel the earth quiver and breathe beneath us; to know a hundred different smells of mud and listen unselfconsciously to the soothing of the trees."

More HCS Mathematical Minds

If 5 x's = 4y's
and 12 y's = 5 z's,
then 30 x's = how many z's?

By Nancy Pollack, Math Coordinator

Eight of our fourth graders at Hinesburg Community School have been enthusiastically tackling problems such as these once per week since December. They've been involved in an enrichment math program modeled after the Continental Math League. The program is designed to increase problem solving skills and passion in the area of mathematics.

Thanks to Kristi Johnson and Rosemary Webb, two very dedicated parent volunteers, our fourth grade mathematicians have been challenged to solve some very tough mathematical problems. Three times over the course of the year, the children had to solve six problems independently. These scores were tallied to achieve cumulative scores over the course of the year.

On Friday, April 13, the students and their parents celebrated the end of the program with an ice cream party and award ceremony. All participants received a personalized certificate of achievement. In addition, four medals were awarded to Eliot Heinrich, Emily Coffin, Tyler Van Dyk and Shane Hanlon, for being the top four individual scorers.

Final RIF Day

We will hold a RIF "leftovers" Day on June 1. HCS is no longer eligible for the national Reading Is Fundamental program, as RIF has tightened their funding standards in order to be able to support more low income children throughout the U.S. We will give away our remaining leftover RIF books to students on Friday, June 1.

Used Book Sale

The Library Media Center will hold the annual Used Book Sale on Thursday, June 7 in the Wainer Learning Center. Used children's books will be sold for 25 cents and magazines for ten cents. We welcome donations for this sale. Used children's books and magazines can be dropped at the library at any time.

Summer Library Hours

The Hinesburg Community School Library Media Center will be open every Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. throughout the summer. Yvonne Epstein is our summer librarian. Stop by on Wednesday to find great summer reading—including the new Harry Potter book!

NECAP 101

By Nancy Pollack & Betsy Knox,
Math & Literacy Coordinators

For the second year our HCS students in grades 3 through 8 took the New England Common Assessment Program (NECAP). This assessment was designed by educators, from across three New England states, in response to the No Child Left Behind legislation mandated by Washington, DC. The feeling was that if local educators created an assessment that fulfills national requirements AND is based on our Grade Expectations (GE's) from our local curriculum, then it will be a valuable assessment tool.

In March parents of students at Hinesburg Community School received their children's NECAP scores. These scores were discussed during parent-teacher conferences last month.

The important message that we want parents to know is that the NECAP is one assessment out of many that educators at HCS use to determine what a child knows and is able to do. The NECAP is the assessment that gets much public attention, but in addition to the NECAP, teachers use many local (CSSU) and classroom based assessment tools that provide them with important information about a child's abilities. This information is used to plan appropriate instruction for that child.

The actual test items on the NECAP are like a moving target in that you never know what specifically will be asked of our students at a particular grade level. What remains constant is our Grade Expectations: what content teachers need to teach at each grade level.

One part of our jobs as Math and Literacy Coordinators is to work with teachers to ensure that these Grade Expectations are used to design curriculum in meaningful and engaging ways for our HCS students. Another part of our job is to analyze grade level test results looking for areas of strength and areas of need in our instructional programs. Can we "teach" to this test? No! Can we ensure that our students are prepared? Absolutely!

If you have any questions about the NECAP test or would like to see samples of the test, don't hesitate to give us a call at 482-2106 ext. 151.

Auditorium Fund Raising Debate

By Rosalyn Graham

The Champlain Valley Union High School board tossed the sponsorship and naming hot potato back to the administrators and policy committee at their April 11 meeting after a short debate on the pros and cons. They asked for a draft policy on fund raising to guide the next steps toward rehabilitating the auditorium as well as other similar situations, for board discussion and approval, and encouraged the ad hoc committee to continue on its time line toward beginning work on the auditorium renovation in the summer of 2008.

The debate of sponsorship, an increasingly popular method of supplementing tax dollars for public education programs and capital projects, began at CVU when the ad hoc committee studying ways to rehabilitate and improve the high school auditorium came to the board with a proposal for funding the $1.2 million project with a combination of tax money that would need approval by the voters in a bond vote and donations they would solicit from individuals and businesses in the area. The proposal sparked enthusiastic support from some board members, equally strong criticism from others, and a consensus that there needed to be a policy on the books before donations could be solicited or accepted – especially if the donations might be linked to buying the right to have your name on a brass plaque on the back of an auditorium chair, or on a very large banner for sponsoring the whole project – a fund raising strategy known as "naming."

At the April 11 meeting, Jeff Parker, a Shelburne representative to the board, spoke strongly in favor of sponsorship. He said, "We're here to educate children and if it betters educational opportunities for the students, I'm all for it."

Joan Lenex, a Shelburne representative with many fund raising campaigns behind her including raising money for the school fields at Shelburne Community School and the Wellness Center at CVU, said, "People want to contribute for the good of all, not to have their name on a plaque. We can have a fund raising campaign without resorting to oneupmanship."

Elizabeth Skarie of Williston, a parent who has been on the ad hoc committee, said, "You are tying our hands if we can't use this strategy." She pointed out that the campaign would be targeted to people, not big companies, and could encourage naming in honor of teachers, parents or children.

Sarita Austin, a board representative from Williston and a member of the policy committee, said she has studied the policy that South Burlington School District wrote after having a debate about the sponsorship of their playing fields. She said their policy defined how fund raising should be handled and placed the final authority in the hands of the superintendent.

Charlotte representative Lorna Jimmerson said she had had a conversation with a member of the community who said that if someone offered a $1 million donation they should accept it. "I agreed, but later I realized there is no need for us to sell out."

Sarah Tischler, a parent and chair of the ad committee, said the auditorium is such an integral part of the high school, the place for classes, for special events such as the presentation recently to the New England Association of Schools and Colleges that won high praise from everyone who attended, as well as musical and drama performances, that it has a strong connection for many people in the community, alumni, parents, students and more. "Donor recognition would be a phenomenal way to raise money," she said, "and it could be a way to honor people whose names would raise excitement in the community: Art Scott, Audrey Moore and Jean True among them." Scott, Moore and True were drama and music teachers in the early days of CVU.

"Alumni like to think about being able to give back, and the chance to support something here creates an excitement that will inspire people to give in a lovely way," Tischler said.

CVU Summer Camp Mentors Success For High School Students

By Eddie Krasnow

Expanded summer offerings for those of all ages on the Champlain Valley Union High School campus will be filled with fun learning opportunities. Community members are invited to attend Access to CVU classes, while current and future high school students will participate in the CVU Summer Camp.

The CVU Summer Camp for incoming 9th graders presents the spectrum of learning available to future and current high school students. Participants experience success as they participate in interest area selections and collaborate in group activities. Current and former CVU students work as counselors for specific interest areas and help plan and implement group activities. According to Helen Neidermeier, Director of Guidance at CVUHS, "The camp complements our other transition programs for entering students in a fun and dynamic way. They love the connections made over the two weeks."

Camp activities are centered on 12 interest areas that offer academic, artistic, athletic, recreational, and technological choices. Campers choose any three interest areas and spend most of the time in those small groups learning new skills while interacting with classmates and counselors. Current camp enrollment is ahead of previous years, states Duncan Wardwell, Camp Director. "This year, the technical offerings like Graphic Design and Engineering Solutions are very popular. Yet, it's always a balanced session as the Summertime Games, Hip Hop Fitness, and Garage Band groups gather to learn and have fun."

The counselors create activities that challenge the campers to develop high school skills and attitudes. "Counselors already know how to cut to the cool and I help them develop strategies for maintaining respect, order, and a positive learning environment. Before the first day of Camp, we work as a staff to design experiences for campers to read, write, communicate, and analyze info effectively," states Duncan. Everyone gets personal practice and attention, because the counselors work with small groups and keep the campers active. "Lest we forget, it is a Camp, and the first goal is to make it fun!" Duncan adds to his counselor training plans. The counselors provide priceless insight into what it takes to succeed at CVU, but the campers also enjoy learning what's taboo.

When the whole camp is together during attendance, snack, and lunch, the campers learn more about CVU culture, express opinions, compare learning styles, and tour CVU resources. The spectrum of the high school begins to shine during the lunch hour as counselors and campers eat together, (Continued on the next page.)

What is a Response To Text?
By Betsy Knox, Literacy Coordinator

Our HCS Writing Curriculum requires students to write in many different "genres". Report writing, persuasive writing, narratives, and procedural writing are just a few of those genres.

Another genre is "Response to Text". Students read a piece of text (either literary or informational) and respond to the text in writing. The response requires students to analyze the text, synthesize ideas, and put those ideas into writing, using evidence from the text to support their statements.

Some examples of "responses to text" are: character analysis, significance of the setting, discussion of theme, or relevance of a quotation. "Responses to Text" require students to think deeply about the text.

What we want our students to do: think about what they read!

By Emily Coffin, Grade 4/Mrs. Whitman

Imagine that you have a cousin. A cousin who bullies you and throws your pet turtle over a bridge into the Mississippi river. Well, that's the type of cousin Claire has but still she doesn't follow his example and is a polite and helpful character. Claire is from the book Horns and Wrinkles by Joseph Helgerson.

First, Claire is a polite person. We can see this when she uses manners towards other people. As the author writes, "Thank you. That information I hope will help me, and my cousin," Claire said as she climbed out of the old lady's rowboat. Helgerson proved to me that Claire is polite and uses her manners.

Also, Claire is also a helpful person. We can see this when her cousin starts growing a rhinoceros horn in the place of his nos, and she gathers stuff to help him stay in the woods because he can't go into the town or else who knows what would happen to his poor mother when she saw him. She would probably faint or worse.

I think Claire is a polite and helpful person. I would like to have her as a cousin because she would help me with problems and would respect me and other people.

Brave

By Will LaCroix, Grade 4/Mrs. Whitman

I recently read the book Davy Crockett. I think it is a fantastic story. When I was reading I could infer that the author was trying to prove that Davy was a brave character. The author George Sullivan is a great author.

One reason I thought Davy was brave is he decided to run away from home when he was only 13. His dad ran and ran after Davy up a hill and kept running because he didn't notice Davy hiding behind a bush. I think it would be frightening to be on your own when you're thirteen and that's one reason I thought Davy was brave.

Another reason I thought Davy was brave was because he wasn't intimidated by older kids. Davy was furious with another boy so when the boy walked by he jumped up on him and tackled him, although Davy was nervous to go to school because he thought he would get in trouble and the older kid would get revenge. So instead of going to school he would just have a great time playing in the woods all day.

Finally, I really thought Davy was brave when he fought in a frightening war at the Alamo. He was fighting against thousands of Mexicans, but there were only a couple hundred of men on his side, and they were running low on ammo. In the Alamo Davy killed over 30 Mexicans and fought like a tiger. Davy was said to be the last one left in the Alamo. At the last few moments in the Alamo Davy took the barrel of his gun and swung and hit the Mexicans but there were too many. Davy didn't shoot because he was out of ammo. Davy died in the Alamo.

I have shown you how Davy Crockett was a brave person in three different ways. I would recommend Davy Crockett to anybody; it is a great book.

In this new feature, HCS students have the opportunity to use their (viking) voices to express what is on their minds. Here 7th grader Oliver French tackles a topic on which teachers and students have long disagreed.

The Benefits of Gum in Class

By Oliver French, Galaxy Team

I chew gum to make me think better. I think we should be allowed to chew gum in class because when I am working I think well when I chew gum. According to Marian Waint it's a known fact that chewing gum calms nerves. I think also to compromise with the teachers, maybe we should only able to chew two pieces a day one before lunch and one after.

Another reason we should be able to chew gum in class is that it also takes your mind of the pressure. I also think that it would put a good flavor in your mouth instead of old saliva. Gum also makes your mouth nice and wet instead of dry so you don't have to hear kids complain about dry mouth.

Also another good reason is that if someone is having a bad day at school gum might make their day a bit better so you don't have to have them moan and groan and say "make me" and other words like that.

Something else you should know is that it can help get rid of plaque so you teachers don't have to smell rotten breath all day. Something else good is that chewing gum would help take say food and other things off your teeth.

Now you probably think that kids would put it in other kids' hair. I bet you also think kids would put it under desks.

Now I am telling you just try chewing gum in school for one day and you will see how it goes. If anything goes wrong, then no gum in school for those people if they abuse it.

In conclusion, some good reasons are gum calms nerves and takes mind of pressure. It also cleans your teeth. Just try it for one day and you will see that it helps.

Keep the conversation going ...

discuss the day's events, play games, and participate in role plays.

The driving force behind the camp's successful mentoring model is the attitude that everyone is ready to learn. "I'm mentoring the counselors as they teach a talent and facilitate a community environment. The counselors are mentoring the campers as they make choices about high school and understand success." Nicole Devoid, a CVU alum and experienced counselor states, "Campers learn techniques and technology that they would not have an opportunity to do while sitting at home." Counselors are sometimes former Camp participants and often explore careers in education or something they pursued beginning in camp.

By the end of each session, the 9th graders walk away with new friends, a sense of direction, and sharpened skills. "Over the last three years, over 75% of Campers reported they felt prepared, confident, and learned new skills." The Camp counselors walk away with effective management tools while nurturing future academic and career paths. "Everyone who participates in the Camp feels like they have contributed to the greater CVU community." Philip Burgin-Young, a current CVU student and counselor emphasizes that "it makes everyone more comfortable early in the year when times can often be difficult."

Summer Access for Adults and Kids will include computer, art, and exercise classes. To find out the complete list with times and cost, go to www.cvuhs.org/access/. If you are interested in the CVU Summer Camp, check out the complete info at cvuhs.org or ask your guidance counselor for a brochure.

Hinesburg resident Robin Hart has been selected to participate in the Leadership Through Learning Program sponsored by the Foundation for Rural Education and Development (FRED). FRED is a part of the Organization for the Promotion and Advancement of Small Telecommunication Companies.

Robin was nominated by Waitsfield and Champlain Valley Telecom and participated in the all expense paid week-long leadership program held this spring.

A total of fifteen high school juniors and seniors from rural communities around the U.S. that are served by independent telephone companies will also participate in the program. Participants will also spend time learning firsthand about American history, federal government, and current events. They will also have the opportunity to meet with government and members of Congress.

Where Does the Time Go?

Into fun, friendship and lots of life lessons...

By Kate Dodge

I can't believe my son's first year of preschool is almost over. It seems like only yesterday I was holding his hand while we walked down the steps to the schoolroom door, his body stuck like Velcro to my leg as I struggled to propel us into the room.

I remember trying to ignore my own fears (will he make friends? will the teachers like him? will he cry when I leave?) and focusing on helping Max adjust to the new environment. He was lucky in that he had Bella, his good buddy from daycare, there to help him transition each day. She is a year older and was very good at helping him feel at home. She definitely enjoyed "showing him the ropes," and it really helped him look forward to every Tuesday and Friday.

Now, Max lets out a cheery "see you at lunchtime, Mommy!" when I drop him off, and then goes in search of friends for some playtime. Don't get me wrong, the "Goodbye Window" still gets plenty of use, but so do the blocks, the train table, the art supplies, the trampoline and of course, the reading area.

Each day I know he will be surrounded by numerous possibilities for play—and unbeknownst to him, he'll be practicing important skills such as cooperation, sharing and listening.

The teachers are always cooking up fun ideas for new ways to play. Recently there was a shaving cream incident at school (a supervised one, of course). Yvonne and Wendy doused a whole table from one end to the other and let the kids go wild. What will they think of next? My son had so much fun—he was grinning from ear to ear and couldn't wait to tell me all about it.

Lately, in preparation for Big Truck Day, the kids have been reading all sorts of books about trucks. I find it hard to believe that there are books on this subject that Max hasn't read, but he has described a few that Yvonne has read as ones he's never seen before! This is monumental news considering the volumes we have read on vehicles with four or more wheels.

As I write this, final preparations are coming together for the Big Truck Day event; I look forward to telling you all about it—complete with a photo or two—in the next issue of The Record.

Local Woman Earns Peace Fellowship from Rotary International

Carrie Nedzipovik spoke to the members of Charlotte Shelburne Rotary Club on April 25, tracing the path that she has followed, from being an activist in high school to having won a prestigious Rotary International Peace Fellowship.

She explained that she first heard of the fellowship while working in Russia as an intern. A fellow intern had won one of the first Peace Fellowships, and Carrie thought the program sounded like a way to pursue her goal of working for world peace.

In March 2006 she began her research, contacted Charlotte Shelburne Rotary for a local club sponsorship, won the club's enthusiastic support and went on to be successful at the District level. She received the fellowship, which will pay her expenses—including tuition, travel and living—plus a stipend as she studies peace or conflict resolution at one of six colleges. She will be studying at Bradford University in England beginning in September.

Carrie grew up in Hinesburg and went to Hinesburg Elementary School and CVU. She became interested in international issues when she was 12 and credits Bono of U2 with raising her awareness. She was inspired by his message, founded a chapter of Amnesty International at CVU, and was active in crusading for worthy causes, though she didn't think

Carrie Benis Nedzipovik, who grew up in Hinesburg, will begin studies on peace and conflict resolution in England in September having won one of six Rotary International Peace Fellowships awarded this year for two years of post-graduate study. Carrie spoke at the Charlotte Shelburne Rotary Club meeting on at that time that her activism could translate into a career.

She went to Colorado State University without a specific career or study plan, and uninspired by school, she decided to study abroad to focus on international studies and conflict resolution. She spent a semester in Ireland with a program of the Brattleboro School of International Studies, working with the people as well as doing academic work, and found it exciting and motivating. "I knew what I wanted to do," she said.

Carrie then spent a year with the Balkan Sunflowers program, working in Macedonia and Cosavo, organizing programs for youth, especially with the Roma people who had been displaced by the conflict in that area. It was there that she met her future husband, who is a member of the Roma people.

She returned to the United States and attended Clark University in Massachusetts, studying international development, and then came to Vermont to work as an Americorps Vista, doing cultural and literature programs for refugee families at the Fletcher Free Library in Burlington.

Most recently she has been working with Project Harmony, first as a program assistant and then as a program coordinator, supervising programs in Laos and Cambodia, with responsibility for administration and finances.

Now, she says, she is ready to go abroad and get her Master's degree, focusing on the skills she knows she needs to help find peace in the world.

She expressed deep appreciation for the Rotary Fellowship, for the support she got from the beginning of the application process from then-President Terrell Titus, and from Bob Sanders who will continue to be her mentor as she works on her degree and the field experience that is included. Besides the encouragement from the Charlotte Shelburne Club, she will have a local Rotary Club contact in England, "but my roots are here," she says.

Carrie leaves for England in September.

Applications for SCHIP Grants Due May 30

Help for neighbors in need in three towns

By Rosalyn Graham

Shelburne Charlotte Hinesburg Interfaith Projects, the three-town organization that raises funds at its resale shop to make grants to projects that benefit those neighbors and communities, is ready to make another round of grants. Applications from non-profit organizations in the towns for projects from large to small are due by May 30.

In the two and a half years since it began making grants, SCHIP has given almost $60,000 to everything from food shelves and football uniforms to a shower for an elderly person. Grants have ranged from a few hundred to several thousand dollars.

The deadline for the next round of grant applications is

Wednesday, May 30. The guidelines for grants are:

- Projects must benefit people or communities of Shelburne, Charlotte and Hinesburg
- Grants can only be made to organizations with an IRS-approved 501c3 status, but a group or individual without such IRS approval can apply by establishing a sponsorship or mentoring relationship with a 501c3. For example, all the member faith communities that joined their energies to found the SCHIP organization have that 501c3 status and could help with an application for a grant.
- Application forms are available at the SCHIP's Treasure Resale Shop at 5404 Shelburne Rd., in Shelburne Village, or at the Town Clerk's offices in Shelburne, Charlotte or Hinesburg.

The grant committee that reviews all applications and makes recommendations to the board for grants would like to hear from people who want to discuss creative ideas that would benefit the people of the towns. A creative idea may just need seed money to become a significant addition to the welfare of the town or area. The grant application for a SCHIP grant is the place to start.

The funds that SCHIP distributes in grants to the communities comes from the successful operation of SCHIP's Treasure Resale Shop in Shelburne Village, a shop that accepts donations of gently used clothing and home goods, and sells them to a growing group of customers who enjoy discovering great bargains and "treasures."

Volunteers are very important to the operation of SCHIP—as members of the board and as helpers who assist Shop Manager Janet Morrison in the shop. Hours, days and tasks can be customized to suit the availability of volunteers. Call the shop at 985-3595 to talk about volunteering, stop by the shop to pick up a volunteer form, or call SCHIP board member Tricia Coleman at 482-2980 for information.

ARTS ENTERTAINMENT

Sittin' In - A Great Opportunity for Student Musicians

The second annual outdoor music festival, Valley Stage, will be held on August 11 at Blackbird Swale in Huntington. An exciting addition this year is the "sittin' in" contest which will give one Chittenden County high school student the opportunity to perform on stage at the festival with Burlington-based professional musicians.

Interested students will submit a sample of their performance on cassette or CD along with an essay about what their musical experience means to them. It can be as simple as a solo recording done at home or a finished piece done in a recording studio environment with other musicians. All entries will be reviewed by a board of musicians and educators from Chittenden County. The winner will also get a finished video DVD of their performance at the festival and five hours of recording studio time donated by Resting Lion Studios in Huntington. Any interested Hinesburg student should contact Andrew Miskavade at CVU for more information. Entries are due no later than the close of school on Friday, June 8.

Among the featured artists at this year's Valley Stage will be The Greencards and Brooks Williams. Check the website (www.valleystage.net) for more information on this year's performers, ticket sales and "sittin' in."

Upcoming Events at Bristol's Inn at Baldwin Creek

Friday, June 8, 6:30 pm: Atlas of American Cheese Table Talk Dinner and Discussion with author Jeff Roberts. Three-course dinner and discussion on the ways artisan cheese has changed the face of American agriculture and how it can help us make decisions about the future of Vermont farming. $38 per person inclusive, $30 seniors and full-time students.

Sunday, June 3 or June 10, 12:30 to 4:00 pm: The Cook and the Gardener Hands-on Cooking Class with Chef Doug Mack. In a "garden to table" class, participants harvest a variety of ripe veggies from the Inn's kitchen garden to prepare recipes such as chicken with tarragon, fried zucchini blossoms, rhubarb and strawberry confit. $65 includes class-prepared meal with wine.

Hinesburg Harvest Festival

Promises Celebration of Food and Arts

September 28 and 29

The Second Annual Hinesburg Harvest Festival promises to be a great community event again this year. Each year, this gives us an opportunity to celebrate the local food, arts and culture in Hinesburg. The dates are set for and September 28 and 29 at a time when our gardens are producing the last of their gifts and we're enjoying the lingering warmth of fall.

Planning is in progress, so if you'd like to create a new event or volunteer to be part of one of the events, please contact the appropriate person below.

This year the Buy Local Task Force will also be helping to support this event through some of its initiatives. If you are interested in participating in this task force, meetings are held the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 in the Town Hall. Contact James Donegan (482-2017) for more information.

Saint Michael’s Playhouse Celebrates 60 Years With Into the Woods, Educating Rita, Broadway Bound, & Suds

Saint Michael’s Playhouse, Northern Vermont’s professional Actors’ Equity theater company, announces the 60th anniversary season with a Tony winner, a British comedy, a Neil Simon play, and a ‘60s pop musical comedy. The shows, Into the Woods, Educating Rita, Broadway Bound, and Suds, run June 19 to August 11 in the McCarthy Arts Center on the campus of Saint Michael’s College.

A rousing night of a dozen curtain calls marked the Playhouse opening night June 30, 1947. “Now, hundreds of productions and more than one million audience members later, Saint Michael’s is bigger and stronger than ever, having experienced a gigantic 50 percent increase in attendance during the past three summer seasons,” said producing artistic director Chuck Tobin. “Actors from Broadway, Off-Broadway, and regional theaters continue to travel to Vermont each summer to entertain Greater Burlington residents and visitors,” he said. With its high-flying 60th anniversary season featuring numerous Broadway actors, the Saint Michael’s Playhouse upholds its commitment “to bring the best talent in the theater business to produce the highest quality theatrical productions in Vermont.” Tobin said. The Playhouse represents the unique American theatrical phenomenon of summer stock theater.

Children’s Theatre

Clayhouse Junior, Children’s Theater, presents Hans Christian Anderson’s The Snow Queen, Saturday, July 7, at 11 a.m. and Sunday, July 8, at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., and a country musical jamboree, Three Little Pigs, Saturday, August 4, at 11 a.m. and Sunday, August 5, at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Both shows are performed by Saint Michael’s Playhouse performance interns, and are directed by Marc Tuminelli, featured actor in Broadway Bound, who has created a highly successful children’s musical theater workshop in New York City.

Shelburne Museum Garden Sundays

Shelburne Museum will host Garden Sundays and four workshops focusing on lilies, peonies, and museum gardens.

Lilac and Gardening Sunday was held May 20, but the lilacs should still be at peak. Special exhibits also started on the 20th including African and American quilts, prints by Audubon, contemporary chandeliers and decorative arts.

Peony Sunday is June 10 and features the new peony garden and visitors can learn to plant and care for them.

Garden Tour Sunday is July 29 and features a self-guided tour of 10 gardens. Master Gardeners will give mini-lectures and answer questions.

Free Gardening Workshops will be held in Saturdays June 3, June 29, and October 13. Please visit the web site www.shelburnemuseum.org for details.

The Classic, celebrating its 15th year for men and 10th for women, showcases all-star high school seniors from Vermont, versus rival New Hampshire players. Both of last year's games ended in ties, with the long-running series very close between the Twin States.

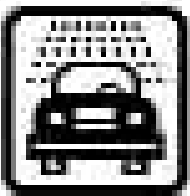

All proceeds from the event go to fulfill special wishes for children with life-threatening medical conditions. Make-A-Wish Foundation of Vermont® has granted over 400 wishes since its inception, and the Hockey Classic has raised almost $200,000 toward those wishes.

Engelberth Construction, Inc. is generously sponsoring the games again this year. Hinesburg and St. George Mentors Honored

On Sunday March 25, HowardCenter Community Friends Mentoring held its ninth annual Mentor Recognition Brunch at Tuscan Kitchen in South Burlington. HowardCenter Community Friends has a 25 year history of making successful matches between adults and children. The program could not exist without the continued enthusiasm, dedication, and perseverance of volunteers.

Howard Center Community Friends' Annual Volunteer Recognition Brunch is an opportunity to say 'thank you' to the 100 committed volunteers who give their time to area children and recognize all they do for the community.

The following Hinesburg and St. George residents were recognized for their ongoing service as mentors:

Nancy Carlson, 3 years

Ken Brown, 1 year

Bill Spence, 1 year

Howard Center Community Friends is also grateful for the support of The Tuscan Kitchen for making the Recognition Brunch possible for the past 9 years.

For more information about mentoring, contact Community Friends at (802) 488-6650 or email: mentor@howardcenter.org. Extensive training and support are offered to individuals 18 and older who would like to mentor area youth between the ages of 6 and 12.

VYOA Launches Chorus

The Vermont Youth Orchestra Association unveils a new program this spring - the VYO Chorus, open to students entering grades eight to 12. Auditions for the inaugural season of the VYO Chorus will be held June 1 to 3 at the Elley-Long Music Center at Saint Michael's College in Colchester.

The VYO Chorus will offer Vermont's top high school vocalists the chance to explore major choral repertoire, work with renowned guest artists and make music at a very high level. The chorus will rehearse weekly on Monday evenings from September to April in the Elley-Long Music Center at Saint Michael's College. The 2007/08 concert season will include performances at the Elley-Long Music Center and at the Flynn Center for the Performing Arts. A nationwide search is underway to hire a choral conductor to lead the VYO Chorus. Chorus auditions are open to the following student vocalists:

- Students entering grades eight to 12 in the fall
- Those able to read music, match pitch and blend with others
- Students actively participating in their school choral program, if one is offered

VYO Chorus auditions include:

- An a cappella performance of a song of your choice. Please bring a copy of your music for the Audition Committee.
- Pitch matching - singing back notes that are first played on the piano.
- Sight reading - be prepared to sight read a brief melody presented to you at the audition.

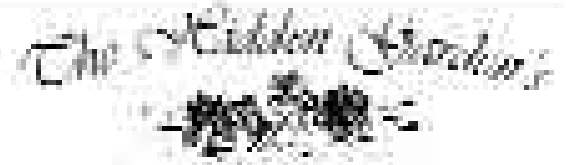

The goal of the VYOA is to offer placement to every qualified student who auditions. All auditions are held by appointment only. There is no cost charged to audition. Students interested in auditioning for the VYO Chorus should call the VYOA at 655-5030. For more information, visit www.vyo.org

Rokeby Museum Opens

Rokeby Museum in Ferrisburg will open for the season on Sunday, May 27 at 2:00 p.m. with a presentation and discussion of "Trapped" with playwright David Budbill. The short drama, commissioned by the Museum and written by Budbill, tells the story of Jesse, a fugitive slave living in Vermont in 1837.

Using a video recording of the play's debut, a staged reading presented last October, Budbill will discuss the process of creating a drama from historical events and figures. He also worked under constraints of time and material. The play had to run for less than fifteen minutes and incorporate three historic documents. It will be presented as part of a new exhibit to be installed at Rokeby during 2008.

"Trapped" uses letters in Rokeby Museum's collection to tell the story of Jesse's attempts to purchase his freedom. Jesse had lived and worked at Rokeby for more than a year and saved $150. He offered it all to his former owner Ephraim Elliott in exchange for his freedom. Elliott refused Jesse's offer, and Rowland T. Robinson, his Vermont benefactor, was unwilling to make up the difference based on religious principle. Thus Jesse found himself "trapped" between two white men, one a radical abolitionist, the other a slave owner, and neither willing to give him the last leg up to freedom.

Rokeby Museum is a National Historic Landmark designated for its exceptional Underground Railroad history. Its new exhibit will tell the stories of Jesse and Simon, two fugitive slaves sheltered at the site in the 1830s.

Community Outreach Groups To Discuss Affordable Housing At June 14 Forum

A St. Jude Parish gathering of community outreach groups, assembled under the banner of "Faith in Action" recently added a new group dedicated to the exploration of the topic of affordable housing in Hinesburg. The motivating force for that expansion was an early March visit by Julia Curry of Vermont Interfaith Action, a Burlington based organization working to organize Community Churches to address the practical needs of the less fortunate in Vermont.

Town-wide interest in affordable housing was first sparked during a 2006 Community Forum sponsored by the Hinesburg Selectboard. Out of that forum a Hinesburg Affordable Housing Task Force was formed. The St. Jude affordable housing group is coordinating with that Task Force as well as with Pastors of the Hinesburg United Church and the Hinesburg Community Alliance Church.

All these local elements are invited to an information meeting to be held in the St. Jude Parish Hall at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, 14 June.

Hinesburg Community Resource Center Foodshelf

By Doug Gunnerson, Treasurer

The Hinesburg Foodshelf is a non-profit charitable organization. All contributions are tax deductible. Remember funds raised here stays here to help our neighbors.

Please consider what you can do to help our neighbors at a crucial time, out of work, extra expenses. We need many more supporters to help. You may reach us at: Doug Gunnerson, 482-3069, or Laurie Sweeney, 482-5519. Or mail donations to: HCRC-FOODSHELF, PO Box 590, Hinesburg, VT 05461-0590.

Lastly, if we can assist you please stop in. We are open every Friday morning 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 noon, at the rear entrance of the United Church. Thank you.

put together a representative ensemble from the Hinesburg Community Band to entertain at the opening market June 7. Plans also are in the works for a popular music concert led by Bill Moulton who is the District Governor of the Vermont Lions and teaches music at St. Johnsbury Academy. That concert is planned for June 21.

Anyone interested in offering some entertainment may call 482-2651 or 482-3004.

Coupon Program

For persons who cannot afford to buy produce, coupons in denominations of $3 each supplied under the state agricultural department entitled "Farm to Families" can be used to purchase the fresh vegetables. The coupon holders can present the coupons to the vendors who will, in turn, be reimbursed by the market manager at the end of each market day.

At the end of each month, the Lions are reimbursed for their outlay of money to the vendors. The Lions make no money on this program, but it does increase the growers' sales and satisfies the intent of the Lions—which is to serve the whole community. This means everyone may enjoy these fresh healthful produce regardless of income.

This year's market will be headed up by Jo White, Margery Sharp, and Barbara Lyman, with a Lions committee consisting of Anne Castle and Dean Woodruff. Behind the scenes, all of the Hinesburg Lions participate in some way with the market. Also, the church, neighboring Len Duffy who allows customers to use his driveway to exit onto Route 116 and Verizon who allows the vendors to park their trucks and vans in its parking facility across the street, all contribute to the smooth running of the enterprise.

Finally, as with all Lions projects, this venture is non-profit. Any monies realized through membership fees and space rentals is put into the Hinesburg Lions Community Fund and returned in the form of scholarships, stocking the food shelf, sight and hearing tests or assistance wherever help is needed.
