July Fourth Festivities

By Jennifer McCuin

Parade Theme: "Fun in the Sun" Grand Marshal: George St. Gelais

Thursday, July 3

Come run in the Hilly Hobble Foot Race - 2K, 5K, or 10K. 6:00 p.m. Registration for Foot Race at Hinesburg Community School. .7:00 p.m. Foot Race starts on corner of Buck Hill Road and Route 116.

Friday, July Fourth Information and Preliminary Schedule

The Lions Club will be selling flags. Kohn, Rath & Meyer will be selling balloons with proceeds benefiting the Hinesburg Fireworks Fund. We welcome parade participants! You don't need to sign up to do a float or be in the parade. Each participating child will receive a coupon for a creamee from Papa Nick's or a cookie from Kovals. For anyone interested in participating in the parade, please drive up Lavigne Hill Road and turn left onto Buck Hill Road West between 9:45 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. You will be unable to access Buck Hill Road from Route 116.

As a new addition to the Fourth of July activity package, Team in Training will be hosting a fundraising Kiddie Carnival at the Hinesburg Community School ball field from 12:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. You can purchase tickets for face painting, tattoo parlor, carnival games, etc. This will benefit the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. The Kiddie Carnival is now the "place to be" for the always popular egg toss and frog jumping activities.

Throwing Candy – Not Permitted!

ATTENTION all parade participants, please be aware that throwing candy from floats or while marching IS NOT permissible effective this year. Throwing candy and prizes from floats encourages children to dart out in front of moving vehicles. Please keep our children safe. A Jolly Rancher that lands next to a moving vehicle tempts our children. Thank you for your help in adopting this new policy.

Schedule of Events

Hinesburg Honors Veterans

A well attended interdenominational prayer service was held on the town green in front of the war monuments on Memorial Day. Organized again by Peggy Cioffi with the St. Jude Liturgy Committee, it was moved from the 4th of July this year to give it more prominence and avoid conflicts with all the

By Susan and Ed McGuire

The service honored those who have served and continue to serve the country and the community in all branches of the armed services, as police, on fire and rescue squads and in other public service positions. Since the attendance of around 40 exceeded that of past 4th services, this was most likely the first of an annual Memorial Day tradition for Hinesburg.

other Independence Day activities.

An honor guard from Boy Scout Troop 690 presented Vermont and U.S. flags. The program included a welcome by Father David Cray, SSE of St. Jude church, readings, intercessions and prayers by Reverend Bill Neil of the United Church, Reverend Richard Adams, a retired Episcopal minister now living in Hinesburg, Father Cray and Peggy Cioffi. Michelle Keller and John Penoyer accompanied with guitars and led singing of America the Beautiful, Amazing Grace and, as a finale, Battle Hymn of the Republic.

Congratulations to Steve Button

Congratulation goes out to Steve Button for receiving the Green Mountain Water Environment Association (GMWEA) Presidential Award at the spring meeting in Killington, VT. Steve Button is the superintendent for the water and wastewater department in Hinesburg. He started working with the town almost nine years ago. Since then, he has constantly improved the quality, distribution, and conservation of the Town's water. Mr. Button proactively deals with every water issue he encounters, and works diligently to maintain the confidence his consumers have in the town's water. His biggest challenges are not the problems he encounters, but the solutions he creates.

Mr. Button never misses a chance to assist a customer on the system, or a resident of the town. Working seven days a week is not unusual for Steve, nor are late nights. Steve is a man of resources- that is the cornerstone of his intelligence and experience. Mr. Button often speaks with other operators; trading ideas and giving/receiving tips of the industry. His humor provides a comfortable working atmosphere and his patience and "can do" attitude insures success in any situation. These are just of the few qualities that landed him the Presidential Award from the GMWEA.

Steve Button is a model operator, manager, and inspirational human being. He always works with peoplenever under, over, or against them. Steve's positive attitude and respectful nature compliment his professional commitment to the town, and his career. He takes initiative. He may not have any trophies, medals, or gold stars; but in Hinesburg he's the water MAN! He is a respected, industry known, class IV operator. Last year, Mr. Button was recognized as the water operator of the year in Vermont, by the GMWEA. He's served as a director to the GMWEA for a year now, and is a longtime member. Congratulations again on your achievement!

Recognition Is Due To The

Thanks to Coach Terry

"We-the parents of youth and HCS baseball players past and present - want to thank Coach Wayne Terry for his long years of dedication to baseball in Hinesburg. Wayne and his wife Diane have volunteered to support our youth year after year in a quiet and unassuming manner, but this year marks at least 18 for Wayne and we wanted to honor and celebrate his contributions. Wayne began coaching T-ball when their son Ryan was small, and he moved along to Little League, Farm League, Babe Ruth, Senior Babe Ruth (16-18 year olds) and then to an official position with the Hinesburg Community Middle School team. Wayne not only coached, organized, and taught, but he transported students who would not otherwise have been able to play ball - and he provided support and confidence-building to all his players. Thank you, Coach Terry - and thank you to all the folks who volunteer countless hours to support the young people of our community.

Letter Policy

The Hinesburg Record welcomes letters from local residents and from others who are involved in issues that affect our town. Letters should be brief. We do not have precise guidelines for length but reserve the right to edit based on available space. All letters must be signed. To the extent possible, letters should focus on local issues. Other forums exist for discussion of statewide, national, and international issues.

With these cautions, please keep those letters rolling in. Mail them to The Hinesburg Record, P. O. Box 340 or to 327 Charlotte Road, Hinesburg, VT 05461, deliver them to the Record drop-box on Charlotte Road, or send via email to therecord@gmavt.net.

With all of the excitement generated recently by the ongoing Presidential Primary, I thought it might be important to remind voters of the upcoming primary and general elections scheduled for this fall.

The primary election for all state and federal offices other than President of the United States will be held on Tuesday, September 9, 2008 with the general election to follow on Tuesday, November 4th.

Tuesday, November 4th. For those of you who are new to our community, please don't forget to register to vote. You may do so at the Town Clerk's Office at your earliest convenience.

Property Tax Bills

You should receive your property tax bill in the mail during the first part of August. If you haven't received yours by August 15, please let us know and we will print you a new one. As soon as you receive your bill, please check to verify that your property is correctly classified as either residential or non-residential. If you believe that your property is classified incorrectly, please call our office as soon as possible for assistance.

The property tax adjustments will once again be applied directly to your tax bill for those taxpayers who qualify and who filed their HS-122 in a timely manner. Taxes are due on or before midnight on November 15th, 2008.

The Town operates on a fiscal year and the tax year runs from July 1 through June 30. As always, we are happy to answer any questions you may have regarding your tax bill.

Wastewater Treatment Upgrade Bond Vote

By Randy Volk

The Hinesburg Selectboard will be presenting a bond issue to the voters in September for an upgrade and small expansion of the capacity of the wastewater treatment plant. With the rejection of the previous bond issue it was decided to focus on a smaller project that encompasses the needed upgrades and provides some increase in capacity. The community spoke and we heard you. The bond debt will be born solely by the users with no general taxpayer contribution. We are currently considering a bond in the amount of $2,100,000.

The project consists mostly of needed improvements to replace worn-out components, increase energy efficiency, meet current permit & code requirements and improve operator safety. As a consequence of this work, the treatment process will be improved to the point where we can expect to treat an additional 58,000 gallons of waste per day. With a current system capacity of 250,000 gallons per day this represents a 23% increase. While nowhere near as large an increase as the previously considered project (450,000 gallons per day) this project at 308,000 gallons per day is projected to meet Hinesburg's needs for the next 10 to 20 years. When Hinesburg sees a need to increase capacity further a filtration system can be added to the plant as designed. In fact, the primary difference between this proposal and the last one is the elimination of the filtration system. This does not mean we are treating less, in fact, our allowed discharges are fixed to what they are today. Any increase we want in capacity must come from doing a better job of treating the wastewater.

The Selectboard is currently looking at the impact on user rates. We have not completed this analysis. The board will be working with Saputo Cheese, a large user of the wastewater capacity, to establish a new rate contract. The Selectboard has already substantially increased the sewer allocation and hook-up fees and will continue to look at them to see that new development pays their fair share of the costs.

Look to a town-wide mailing and the August issue of the record for more information on this important project and its impact on the sewer rates.

Municipal Wastewater System Use Ordinance

Public Meetings – July 14 and July 28 at 7:00 PM

On Monday, July 14 and Monday, July 28, 2008 at 7:00 Level Conference Room of Town Hall, the Hinesburg Selectboard will discuss a revision of the Municipal Wastewater System Use Ordinance, with possible adoption of the ordinance at the conclusion of the July 28 discussion. The ordinance was last revised in 1993, and the proposed revision will, among other things, bring the ordinance into compliance with current operational practices, clarify procedures for private wastewater pump stations that will help to eliminate stormwater infiltration into the system and outline procedures for new connections to the system. As outlined in Vermont State Statute, if the Selectboard proceeds with adoption of the revised ordinance on July 28, the ordinance will become effective on September 28, 2008 (sixty days after adoption) unless a petition on the question of disapproving the ordinance, signed by 5% of the qualified voters of the Town, is presented to the Selectboard on or before September 10, 2008 (Forty-four days after adoption). These meetings are open to the public, and community members are encouraged to provide input on the revised ordinance. For further information on the public meeting, the adoption process, the ordinance (and to receive copies of the draft), please contact Town Administrator Jeanne Wilson at 482-2096 or hinesburgtown@gmavt.net or Director of Buildings & Facilities Rocky Martin at 482-2096 or hinesburgpw@gmavt.net.

Work of Many

The honor in receiving the EPA Environmental Merit Award was due to the efforts of many people. It was the support of the community that made the LaPlatte Conservation Initiative on Bissonette Farm a success and the recognition from EPA needs to be shared with the Hinesburg Land Trust and the Fundraising Committee. The Hinesburg Land Trust Board including Paul Wieczoreck (President), Ann Brush, Craig Chevrier, George Dameron, Carol Jenkins, John Kiedaisch, and Susan Mead, was instrumental in the successful completion of the project. Special recognition and thanks are also owed to the Fundraising Committee of Marty Illick, Jean Isham, Penrose Jackson, Jean Kiedaisch, Rolf Kielman, Damon Kinzie, Gay Regan, Peter Regan, and Dotty Schnure. Managing the many details of this complex project involved all these individuals and required regularly scheduled monthly meetings, frequent last minute meetings, constant flexibility, and patience, everyone pulled together. It was a privilege to serve as the project coordinator with this dedicated group. Thank you,

– Andrea Morgante

All elections will take place at the Hinesburg Town Hall and the polls are open from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m.

If you have any questions about whether or not you are registered to vote, please feel free to call the Town Clerk's Office at 482-2281.

Justice Of The Peace Elections

Justices of the Peace are elected every two years during the general election. Candidates are nominated by the major parties during caucuses that are held during the summer. The names are included on the primary ballot and will be voted on during the September primary election. The final vote for the Justices of the Peace will be in November during the general election.

Duties for JP's include performing weddings and serving on the Board of Civil Authority, which is the body that hears tax appeals, serves as election officials, and helps to maintain the voter checklist.

Anyone who has an interest in running for Justice of the Peace should contact their respective party chair or watch for a warned caucus.

Vacancies On Development Review Board (Alternate) And Affordable Housing Committee

There are currently vacancies on the Hinesburg Affordable Housing Committee and as an Alternate to the Hinesburg Development Review Board.

The Development Review Board (7 members and 2 alternates) - The Board reviews all development proposals that require more that a simple zoning/building permit - i.e., subdivisions, business site plans, planned residential developments, conditional uses, signs, camp conversions, etc. The Board is a technical and project/application driven group with a specific "rule book" (Zoning & Subdivision Regulations) on which to approve or deny new development. The Development Review Board Alternate is required to attend meetings infrequently, and only when one or more regular Board members know in advance that they will be missing a meeting. It is a great way to dabble in Town planning and zoning without making a full-time commitment to a regular meeting schedule. It is also a great stepping stone and a way to learn if you think you might be interested in serving as a regular member of the Development Review Board or Planning Commission.

Affordable Housing Committee (9 members) – An advisory group responsible for gathering, generating and prioritizing ideas and plans which will help to increase the availability of affordable housing in the Town, as well as to assess the quality and quantity of current affordable housing, and to bring these ideas and information forward in a advisory manner to the Selectboard, Planning Commission, Development Review Board and Town staff.

As part of the Selectboard's Policy for Appointments to Boards and Commissions, individuals interested in an appointment must express their interest in writing to the Selectboard. Selection of an applicant is at the discretion of the Selectboard, and an effort shall be made to create or maintain a balance of views that is representative of the community. The Selectboard will also consider an applicant's qualifications, level of interest, and potential conflicts of interest as they pertain to the duties of the appointment under consideration.

To express your interest in an appointment please call Town Administrator Jeanne Wilson at 482-2096, email to hinesburgtown@gmavt.net, or write to: Hinesburg Selectboard, Attn: Jeanne Wilson, PO Box 133, Hinesburg, VT 05461.

Pursuit Leads to Multiple Charges

Officers Wade Johnson and Chris Bataille charged James Abbey, 25, of Hinesburg with Driving While Suspended Criminally, Negligent Operation and Attempting to Elude following a short pursuit on the evening of Saturday, May 10. Abbey was observed south of the village center on Vermont Route 116 traveling northbound at 83 miles an hour. The officers pursued him into the village area, where he was tailgating other traffic and passing on the right shoulder. He attempted to hide behind a home in the south end of the village center and was taken into custody there.

Charlotte Woman Charged With Aggravated Domestic Assault

A 29 year old Charlotte woman was charged with Aggravated Domestic Assault as a result of a family fight in Hinesburg on May 25. Deputy Chief Silber and Officer Chris Bataille report that Allison Bruley struck a family member across the face injuring him. Because Bruley has a prior conviction for domestic assault, this led to the aggravated charge. She was transported to jail and in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Noise Complaint Leads to Arrest

Hinesburg Community Police investigated a noise complaint in the woods off Texas Hill Road on Tuesday, June 3, about 3:00 p.m. A number of young people were located camping there.

A routine check of NCIC showed that Michael Scribner, 19, of Hinesburg had an outstanding warrant on a Criminal Driving While Suspended charge from District Court. He was taken into custody and transported to the Chittenden Regional Correctional Facility.

Hit and Run Driver Cited

Christopher Clark, 19, of Hinesburg has been cited into court for leaving the scene of a crash in Sunset Lake Villa. Police allege that Clark backed his pickup truck into a parked vehicle there and then fled the scene. Deputy Chief Silber reported several people in the park witnessed the crash. Clark will answer the charge in District Court.

HCP Ends Crime Spree

Two Hinesburg men are facing multiple charges as a result of a crime spree that covered not only Hinesburg, but a number of other Chittenden County towns and cities. Police report that Raymond Utton, 18 and Adam Greene, 17, both of Hinesburg will be facing charges from multiple agencies in District Court.

It is alleged the two men, at times accompanied by other individuals, were involved in incidents of vandalism where school playing fields were driven over at Hinesburg Community School and the Charlotte school; multiple mail (Continued on the next page.)

The crimes occurred during the latter part of May.

Chief Chris Morrell, the investigating officer, credited one of the victims with discovering a crucial piece of evidence in these cases and he praised the cooperation of Wal-Mart in assisting police.

Hinesburg Officers Participate in "Click It or Ticket."

Officer Kimberly Conant and Chief Chris Morrell joined together with other local departments over the Memorial Day to help the State of Vermont get some needed federal highway money. The federal government had promised the state $3.7 million for highway purposes if Vermont would enact a primary seat belt law or increase the wearing of seat belts to 85 percent statewide through enforcement. With the reluctance of the legislature to adopt a primary seat belt law that would allow officers to stop motorist driving or riding in a vehicle without a seatbelt, the only choice was vigorous coordinated enforcement.

Starting May 19, skilled traffic enforcement officers from Chittenden and Addison converged on Hinesburg to kick off the enforcement action. In the two weeks that followed the team moved from municipality to municipality cracking down on speeding and dangerous driving. If the occupants were not wearing a seatbelt, then this was added to their initial charge.

Statewide the totals were impressive - 886 seatbelt violations, 93 child seat violations and 4000 other violations. A number of criminal law arrests were made and one Hinesburg officer apprehended an escapee from Rutland during a traffic stop. Tom Fields of the Governor's Highway Safety Program termed the two-week effort "very successful." He said he is optimistic the 85 percent compliance level would be achieved and Vermont would receive the $3.7 million in federal funds.

Chief Morrell termed the effort a win-win-win situation for the citizens of Vermont. The enforcement efforts are paid by federal funds, eliminating any cost to local taxpayers. Safety on the highway is enhanced during a particularly dangerous period which also results in a reduction of medical costs caused by crash injuries. And lastly, local towns receive part of the speeding fine money from tickets written by the officers. If we do receive the $3.7 million, it will just be the icing on the cake for Vermont taxpayers.

The fire department responded to a total of 24 emergency calls during the month of May.

EMS first response (excluding motor vehicle crashes): 14 Motor vehicle crashes: 3

Structure Fires*: 2

Fires outside of a structure: 1

Fire or carbon monoxide alarm activations: 4

* "Structure Fires" category includes any real or potential fires within a building, such as chimney fires, odors of smoke inside a building, and gas leaks, but excludes alarm system activations where no fire was found.

Quick Action Prevents Significant Damage at Hinesburg Auto Sales

Friday, May 2, at 5:30 p.m., we responded to Hinesburg Auto Sales for a fire in the building. This was called in by an HCP officer passing by the building just as the fire, which started in a trash can and involved flammable liquids, paints and thinners "rolled" out the back garage door. Employees at the facility knocked the fire down with a dry chemical extinguisher. Firefighters completed the extinguishment and ventilated the building upon arrival. HFD treated one patient for minor injuries. Charlotte FD was initially called for mutual aid assistance but was cancelled once crews arrived on scene and determined the situation was under control with the resources already on scene.

Annual Recognition Banquet

On Saturday, May 10, the Hinesburg Fire Department award banquet was held. This year we gathered at Cedar Knoll Country Club for a bit of relaxation and a good meal (special thanks to Cedar Knoll for donating the room). Chief Barber began the awards portion of the evening by recognizing the many town businesses that support HFD throughout the year, either through providing equipment and services or by making employees available to respond to emergency calls during working hours. Among the businesses recognized were Giroux's Body Shop, the Animal Hospital of Hinesburg, Estey Hardware, Lantman's, Koval's, Jiffy Mart, and the Paisley Hippo. Next awards were presented for members reaching five and ten years of service. Jim Silvia, Jess Stolz, and John Lyman received recognition for five years of service, and Chris Putnam and Eric Spivack for ten years. Each year the membership selects recipients of two prestigious awards: Beyond the Call of Duty and the EMS Award. These are voted by the general membership by secret ballot at the annual meeting, and members with less than 20 years of service are eligible to receive the awards. The results of the voting are kept secret until being announced at the banquet. This year the EMS Award recipient was Frank Koss. Frank wears many uniforms in the town of Hinesburg – EMT, firefighter, and police officer. Since his arrival in town, Frank has regularly been found on EMS scenes providing a high level of medical care with a calm and caring demeanor. The Beyond the Call of Duty award was given to Jeremy Steele. Jeremy also serves as an EMT and firefighter and has taken on the important responsibilities of apparatus maintenance officer for the past year. Jeremy's willingness to learn and help out and his dedication to service in our community has been a great asset to the department and our town. Additionally, Jeremy was chosen as the first person to receive the Chiefs Award. This award is decided by the Chiefs of the department to recognize someone who has made outstanding contributions to the organization. Congratulations Frank and Jeremy!

Big Truck Day.

Big Truck Day

Also on Saturday, May 10, HFD participated in the "Big Truck Day" fundraiser for the preschool. As always, this is a hugely popular event with children young and old, and what would an array of big trucks be without a couple of pieces of fire apparatus? Fortunately this year, the HFD equipment did not need to respond to any emergency calls during the event.

Pediatric Training

On Monday, May 1, HFD held its annual pediatric EMS training night. EMTs from our department along with a few St. Mike's Rescue members gathered to gain some practical experience in how to treat the youngest members of our community. The evening started out with a short lecture review on dealing with youngsters in emergency medical situations, such as the different vital sign readings to expect, how to best assess vitals on young kids, and different illnesses and injuries that we should be looking and treating for in kids. Then we set the kids loose to become pretend victims of various ailments and injuries for the EMTs to treat. As usual, some of the kids were brave souls ready to be strapped to an immobilizing backboard, while others were skeptical at even the taking of a few vital signs. Still others were content to visit the ambulance that St. Mike's brought down for the event and pretend it was responding to any number of emergency calls throughout the town.

HFD Seeks Members

Hinesburg is a growing town. With more people, more homes, and more traffic, the members of the fire department are called on more frequently to provide emergency services to our community. There are plenty of opportunities for people who live or work in Hinesburg and St. George to contribute to their community by joining the department. Don't let the lack of prior emergency services experience or training stop you – we will provide you with opportunities to obtain the learning that you need.

If you are interested, please don't hesitate to stop by during one of our weekly training or business meetings on Thursday nights at the fire station. You can also send an email to info@hinesburgfd.org. We look forward to hearing from you.

Fourth of July

It's hard to believe but July 4 is just around the corner. This year the fire department will once again hold a chicken barbecue. This event serves multiple roles: it is an opportunity for families and friends to sit down to a good dinner at the end of the busy day, and it is a fundraiser for the fire department. The chicken barbecue at the station will start at 4:00 p.m. and continue until the food is sold out. On the menu will be chicken, baked beans, potato salad, rolls with butter, assorted beverages, and strawberry shortcake as long as the strawberry crop cooperates. We look forward to seeing you there!

The fireworks will start at dusk (weather permitting) with a special tribute to our armed forces.

volunteer time and energy and to all parents who get their children to practice and games. The weather has really cooperated this season, which is a huge help. Special thanks to our coaches: Stephanie Bissonette, Frank Twrarog, Ray Nails, Joe Hoeppner, Sue Hoeppner, Lara Atkins, Ryan Wuthrich, Scott Webb, Casey Grant, Jim Moore, Terry Harris, Jim Dowling, David Bourchard, Andy Francis, Pete Cahn, Christine Cahn, Sam Crawford, Tom Buzzell, Sean Pelkey, Jen Pelkey, Brian Dunlop, Chris McCuin, Fritz Mitchell, Ed Colomb, Steve Smith, Bob Linck, Chip Foutz, Justin Beaudry, Luke Smith, Owen Smith, Eric Palmer, and Taylor Gingras.

In addition to the end of the Spring Sport season, it is also an end to another successful year of After School Enrichment Programs. I would like to thank the following instructors for working with the Recreation Department, enriching our students' experience at the Hinesburg Community School: Mary Beth Bowman, Piano Lessons; Kim Johanson, Horseback Riding; Ariane Ehtesham, Young Rembrandts Art and American Red Cross Babysitting Class; Wendy Frink, Cake Decorating; Ed McGuire, Robotics; Scott Johanson, Snowmobile Safety; Allison Wagner, What's Beyond Your Backyard; and Ruth Skiff, Spanish. It has been my pleasure to work with all of these instructors.

This is the last issue of the Record before the 4th of July! Think about participating in the parade by doing a float. You don't need to sign up, just meet at the bottom of Buck Hill Road. Judging starts at 10:30 a.m. and the parade kicks off at 11:00 a.m. I hope to see you there! This year's theme is "Fun in the Sun." Have a wonderful start to the summer and I'll see you on the 4th.

Borrow CSWD Recycling Bins For Your Event — It's Free!

Throwing a shindig in your backyard? Counting on crowds of tens, hundreds, or thousands of your closest personal friends at your next family, school, business, or town event? Borrow recycling bins from the Chittenden Solid Waste District and you'll see how easy it is to keep mounds of bottles, cans, and paper from ending up in the landfill.

It's easy! Just call Emily Newcomer, our event bin coordinator at 872-8100 ext. 237. She'll sign you up for however many bins you need and walk you through the simple steps involved in getting the recycling message out to everyone who comes to your birthday bash, wedding, concert, or annual meeting for...people who meet annually!

Whether you're borrowing bins or not, here are some helpful suggestions:

- Clearly mark which bins are for recycling and which are for trash. Ideally, trash and recycling bins will be different colors (with blue as the easily recognized, universal color for recycling).
- Position the recycling and trash bins right next to each other, bin for bin. If you have a trash bin all by itself and someone has a recyclable they wish to dispose of, they may be tempted to trash it rather than seek a recycling bin.
- Use clear bags for recyclables so you can determine if there is too much trash contamination for the contents to be recycled.
- Choose your refreshments based on the recyclability of their containers. Juice boxes, Styrofoam cups and trays, and plastic or foil candy wrappers are not recyclable, for example.
- Monitor the bins. If either of them is full, people may choose to use whichever has room, whether it's the correct bin or not.
- Talk it up! Hang posters (we have posters we can provide for your event). Let people know you're recycling so they'll feel they are part of the effort.

The Rover Rolls

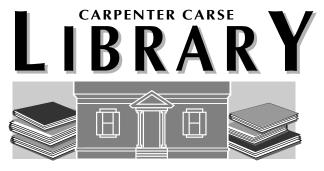

CSWD's mobile household hazardous waste collection truck, dubbed "the Rover," has emerged from its long winter's nap and is holding special collection days in towns throughout Chittenden County—just in time for spring cleaning!

Before you jump in your car and head for the Rover, you may be able to save yourself some time! There's never a line at the CSWD Environmental Depot (1011 Airport Parkway, South Burlington), where Chittenden County residents can bring their household hazardous waste free of charge. The Depot is open year-round, Wednesday through Friday 8-2, Saturday 8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

NOTE: Rover events are for Chittenden County residents only. Businesses must bring materials directly to the Environmental Depot.

AND ANOTHER NOTE: Standard household alkaline batteries do not contain hazardous materials and should be thrown in your regular trash. Please do not bring them to the Rover or the Depot. Please DO bring in rechargeable, button cell, lead-acid, and lithium batteries. Paint cans that are empty or that have solidified paint in them are not hazardous and should be thrown in the trash.

Hazardous waste collected at the Environmental Depot and the Rover includes automotive supplies, health and beauty aids, home improvement supplies, household cleaners, garden supplies, hobby supplies, and more.

With a Little Help from Our Friends

Saturday, May 17 was a profitable day for the Library, after several loyal library supporters dedicated their time and efforts at two benefit sales. Earla Sue and Colin McNaull worked at the Friends of the Library spring book sale in the library's Community Room. Book lovers browsed for hours and purchased $105 worth of books and other media. Earla Sue and Colin are just getting warmed up for the larger scale Fourth of July Book Sale! Bibliophiles are invited to the Town Hall on the Fourth for "the big one." All profits from Friends' fundraisers go to special areas of need at the Carpenter-Carse.

Also on May 17 sale hunters were treated to another sale at the library featuring plants, toys and children's books. This one was the brainchild of Caitlin Van Sleet and Mary Pellegrino, avid readers who planned and ran the fundraiser. Families enjoyed the bright sunshine and a generous array of books and toys. We were all pleased with the more than $200 raised; $60 will be used to spruce up the library's flower garden, with $150 earmarked for books for the youth collection. Caitlin and Mary did a fantastic job from start to finish, and donated the remainders to a very worthy cause. Super job! Plant, toy and book donors also helped make the sale a success. Thank you, donors! Friends really can make a difference.

Summer Events The Galapagos: The Land That Time Forgot

Tuesday, July 8 at 7:30 pm there will be a free adult program presented by local residents Barb and Bob Forauer. Here one can be enchanted by a sea lion, granted wisdom from a tortoise, laugh with the blue footed boobies, be adopted by a school of fish and come eye to eye with Sallie Lightfoot! We will tell of our adventures with these specially evolved creatures that thrive in these unchanged volcanic islands off Ecuador. Please join us to learn about this special region of our natural world. Call the library for more information at 482-2878

Catch the Reading Bug!

The 2008 Summer Reading Program is celebrating the amazing world of insects. Children of all ages can set a goal for the number of books they wish to read during the summer. When they've completed a book they can record the title on a reading record. Pre-readers may record books read to them. The reading program runs through August 31. Parents and children should "buzz" by the library to register and receive a reading record and a bookmark.

Summer Reading Club

Join Tom and Judy each Wednesday starting July 9, for games, snacks and of course stories about bugs. Summer Reading Club meets from 10:30 a.m. till noon and is for children aged six to 12. The reading club requires a separate registration for each weekly program. Registration is required and space is limited, so call for availability.

Compiled by Jen Bradford HCS Adds Outdoor Classroom

We've added a new classroom at HCS-and it was constructed by the students at no expense to our taxpayers. HCS Food Service Manager Deb Bissonette, with the aid of local organic farmers James Donegan and Sara Armstrong, has spearheaded the preparation and planting of a new school garden. According to Bissonette, their vision is "to develop this garden into an outdoor working classroom for the teachers at HCS.'

Many classrooms started seeds and Donegan brought in organic plants from his farm to get the project underway. Vegetables already growing include potatoes, tomatoes, lima beans and peas. Students from the first and second grades are outside watering and weeding just about every day. "Kids are very excited to go out and see how the garden grows," Bissonette says. HCS families have signed on to tend the garden over the summer. Some of the produce harvested will be donated to the food shelf, and some will be put into our freezer for the HCS salad bar next fall.

Intervale generously donated compost for use in the garden. Additional funding came in the form of grants from organizations such as the School-Based Health Access Program and Friends of Burlington Gardens. The garden, among its many other benefits, is helping our students and staff to meet the goals of the CSSU Wellness Policy. Congratulations-and many thanks-to Bissonette, Donegan, and Armstrong from getting this project off the ground—or rather, in the ground.

Thai Storyteller Visits HCS

Dr. Wajuppa Tossan a world-renowned storyteller, visited HCS on June 2. She is here visiting through the Asian Studies Program at UVM and is visiting classrooms around the State of Vermont. The children enjoyed her Thai folktales and riddles. Dr. Tossa has published several books on Thai folktales and has worked very closely with Margaret Read McDonald, a storyteller and children's book author. HCS has had five teachers travel to Thailand through the Asian Studies Program at UVM. They are Pat O'Brien, Carol Hinsdale, Carol Slesar, Alice Tregaser and Donna Fialkoff. Carol Hinsdale is taking next year off to spend the year teaching in Thailand.

My Year on the Other Side of the Planet

By Carol Hinsdale, 3-4 Teacher

I would like my students and friends to follow my journey east.

I have been a teacher at Hinesburg Community School for twenty-three years. Life flies by quickly and one day you wake up and say," Wow! Where did the time go?" And that is why I have chosen this adventure. It is time for me to experience the world outside of my neighborhood and, most especially, my comfort zone, and so it is that I have chosen to take a year and move to the other side of the planet to try something new and different. I look forward to being immersed in another culture and meeting people from all over the world. This is how my story begins.

As a little girl growing up on a dairy farm in Charlotte, Vermont, we rarely had the opportunity to travel. The summer of 1967 we made our way to Expo '67 in Montreal. This is sometime in my life. I was almost lost in the crowd as my family wandered forward and I lingered behind to see more of what this exhibit had to offer. I already felt a strong connection with Thailand at a very young age.

On July 17, my journey begins with a seventeen and a half hour flight from New York to Bangkok on Thai Airways. Montfort College in Chiang Mai is where I will call home for the next year. It is a school of 5,000 students and about 50 foreign teachers. I will be living in a house with several foreign teachers from all parts of the globe, traveling to many neighboring countries to spend my free time. My intention is to post to a blog once a week and to keep in contact with students and friends back home. Follow along with me.

Visit my new school by going to their website: http://www.montfort.ac.th/english/index.php. Visit my blog from the HCS home page (www.hcsvt.org) under "teams" or go directly to my blog at http://carolhinsdale.blogspot.com.

Girls on the Run in Hinesburg

By Melody Perkins, Coach

If your drive home from work brought you through Hinesburg village in the late afternoon this spring, you may have noticed an addition to the usual town activity. Who were those girls running on the sidewalks, and what were they doing?

The Girls on the Run program returned to Hinesburg Community School this year, attracting fifteen 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade girls. Girls on the Run is a national program created by North Carolinian Molly Barker, MSW, in 1996. Using her background in counseling and teaching, along with research on adolescent issues, she developed the three-part curriculum. Today, the program reaches more than 50,000 girls in 43 chapters across the United States. Girls on the Run Vermont now reaches more than 2,000 girls a year statewide.

The 10-week program features a curriculum that teaches life skills through running games and workouts. The program has been offered at Hinesburg Community School for the past four years. Kristi Johnson (Hinesburg) established the Hinesburg program in 2005, and coached for three years. This year, Kristi's former assistant coaches, Melody Perkins (Ferrisburgh) and Heather Schab (Hinesburg) continued the program with help from assistant coach and GOTR parent Kristen Needham (Hinesburg).

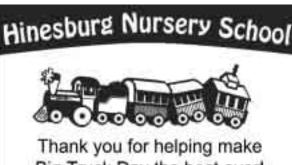

Girls on the Run is a structured program that incorporates training for a 5K event as a means to teaching essential life skills to girls. The curriculum is divided into three sections that focus on healthy growth in areas of development including exploring individual values and strengths, learning how to get along in a group, and being a responsible and contributing member of a community. This year, the girls chose as their community project a cash donation to the Humane Society of Chittenden County. The money was raised through bottle collection and redemption.

The Hinesburg program began April 1. Sessions were held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 5:15 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. The conclusion of the program was a celebration of all northern chapters of GOTR for a day of fun and fitness at the 5K Walk/Run scheduled for June 8 at the UVM athletic campus.

Summer HCS Library Hours - Wednesdays

The HCS Library Media Center will be open again this summer for community use.

We will be open each Wednesday, tentatively set from July 2 through August 20, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Due to maintenance in the building, we will not be able to open in June. It looks like our first opening day will be on July 2. However, please check with the school office near that time to be sure we will be able to open on the 2^{nd} .

Students, families, and community members are invited to stop in to use our collections, computers, and to check out books to read during the summer. Yvonne Epstein will be the summer librarian.

CVU Summer Camp Cascades Successful High School Transitions

The CVU Summer Camp for incoming 9th graders displays the spectrum of learning available to future and current high school students. Incoming 9th graders experience success as they participate in interest area selections and collaborate in group activities. Current and former CVU students work as counselors for specific interest areas and help plan & implement group activities.

Duncan Wardwell, Camp Director for 10 years, describes the process as "a dynamic blend of fun mentoring moments with hands-on learning opportunities that I like to call Cascaded Learning." Camp activities are centered on 12 interest areas that offer academic, artistic, athletic, recreational, and technological choices like Graphic Design, Engineering Solutions, HipHop Fitness, Theater, Garage Band, and Summertime Games. Campers choose any three interest areas and learn new skills during those times while interacting with experienced high school counselors.

The counselors work with Duncan to create daily activities for their interest area strengths. Counselors serve as mentors that challenge the campers to develop high school skills and attitudes. "Counselors already know how to cut to the cool and I help them develop strategies for maintaining respect, order, and a positive learning environment. We design daily experiences for campers to read, write, communicate, and analyze info effectively." The counselors provide priceless insight into what it takes to succeed at CVU but the campers also enjoy "learning what's taboo." Campers gets personal attention because the counselors work with small groups and keep the campers active.

The Camp provides several ways for students to create a positive first impression of CVU. Aside from interest area times, large group activities take place during morning attendance, snack, and lunch. Campers are able to learn about CVU culture, express opinions, compare learning styles, and tour CVU resources. Duncan emphasizes that everyone is equipped to learn something new every day. "I'm mentoring the counselors as they teach a talent and facilitate a community environment. The counselors are mentoring the campers as they make choices about high school and understand success.'

Incoming high school students want to make new friends, orient themselves to CVU's resources, and maintain a sharp mind/body during the summer. "I came to CVU from a private school so I didn't know anyone or if I was prepared for class," recalls Robyn Suarez a current counselor and former Camp alum. "The Summer Camp really made me comfortable. I made new friends and found out how to be a successful CVU student. Now that I'm a counselor, I'm giving back to what inspired me. I'm also preparing for college studies in education." The Camp counselors walk away with effective leadership & group management tools while nurturing future academic and career paths in education or other interest area subjects.

By the end of the summer the 9th graders walk away with new friends, a sense of direction, and sharpened skills. Nick Bohlen, a CVU alum and experienced counselor states, "Campers learn techniques and technology because we make it interesting and let them make choices. Would that happen while sitting at home?" Campers feel like they have contributed to the greater CVU community. Diana Popke, a current CVU student and counselor, declares, "Everyone's more comfortable early in the year when times can be chaotic. Campers know they can come to me to talk about stuff. Plus I show them some tricks to create cool graphics on the computer!"

This summer the Champlain Valley Union High School campus will be filled with fun learning opportunities. Current & future high school students will improve academic and employment abilities as they interact in the CVU Summer Camp.

Check out the Summer Camp website from www.cvuhs.org, email duncan@cvuhs.org or call (802) 482-7194. Spaces available in both sessions, all interest areas.

Burgin-Young Awarded Inaugural Alice Angney Scholarship

Philip Burgin-Young, a senior at Champlain Valley Union High School, has been named the 2008 recipient of the Alice Angney Scholarship for Leadership and Service. Burgin-Young is the inaugural recipient of the award in the amount of $1000. He was honored during a special presentation at the Vermont Superintendents Association's annual banquet, held on May 22nd at the Lake Morey Resort. Burgin-Young lives in St. George and will matriculate to Dartmouth College in the fall.

Burgin-Young has been a community leader in the fight to discover a cure to type I diabetes. For many years, he has participated in the annual Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation Walk to Cure Diabetes in Vermont, and he served as the Walk's chairman in 2006-07. He has mentored children who are diagnosed with diabetes, and worked with UVM medical students on how to relate to children suffering from diabetes. Burgin-Young is also an excellent academic student, graduating 4th in his class at CVU.

The Alice Angney Scholarship for Leadership and Service was established by the Vermont Superintendents Association in 2007 to honor an outstanding high school senior who demonstrates exceptional leadership, academic achievement, service to his or her community, and initiative in overcoming a specific challenge. Dr. Angney's distinguished career as an educator in Vermont has continued for more than 40 years, including 21 years as superintendent of the Lamoille South Supervisory Union from which she retired in 2007.

HNS Holds Biggest Truck Day Ever

By Alison Bell

This year's Big Truck Day featured more trucks, more activities and more fun than ever before. PHOTO BY KATRINA ROBERTS

Big Truck Day, held on May 10, was our BIGGEST one yet! It was a beautifully sunny, warm day, and the trucks gleamed. Hundreds of children and their families climbed on and off, and in and out of all sorts of vehicles. There was a fire truck, well digger, cement mixer, school bus, UPS truck, police car, tow truck, tractor and a camouflaged army vehicle to list just a few. There were trucks with loud horns, trucks with flashing lights, and trucks with enormous tires.

If the trucks were not enough to keep young children busy there was a bouncy house, a craft area where one could make giant bubbles and release them into the air, and of course the playground. To fill visitors' tummies we sold hamburgers, veggie burgers, hot dogs, and all kinds of homemade desserts. We even sold beautifully packaged homemade treats for the dads to pick up for Mother's Day.

The much -oved and worn HNS Big Truck Day t-shirts sporting a cool cement mixer sold out quickly, and balloons were being blown up till the very end. Everyone seemed to have a fantastic time!

Gifford Funeral Service

Personalized Funerals Pre-Arranged Funerals Memorial Services Cremations Available Serving All Denominations Privately Owned Out of Town Services Arranged HNS would like to thank Lantman's, JiffyMart, Shaw's Supermarket, City Market, Hannaford Food and Drug, and Frito-Lay for donating food items, and helping us make this our most successful Big Truck Day ever.

HNS celebrated the last day of school, May 30, with a picnic on the playground. Sandwiches, hotdogs, chips, cookies, watermelon and Popsicles were enjoyed in between swinging, climbing, running and sandbox play. It was a nice time for the children, parents and teachers to socialize. Next year 12 children will be returning to Hinesburg Nursery School and 12 children will be moving on to kindergarten at the "big" school across the way.

Thanks to Kelli Brown, parent and Vice President at HNS, for creating our new website and to Sylvie Vidrine, former HNS parent, for updating our school brochure.

Please check out our website at www.hinesburgnurseryschool.com. And look for us in the July 4th parade; we'll be the cutest float there!

Hinesburg Community Resource Center Hires Coordinator

The Hinesburg Community Resource Center recently hired Kathleen Patten to serve as Coordinator of the many programs the Resource Center offers the town. Kathleen is a town resident and comes to the job with many years of experience assisting families through challenging and rewarding times. Her work with The Hinesburg Community Partners Program for first time offenders and The Vermont Family Court prepares her well to oversee the work of HCRC.

The HCRC is local non-profit organization which began in 1992 to be a resource to town families. The Center has developed its mission by assessing local needs and responding with programs. The work of many volunteers supplements a small budget to support Friends of Family Programs, the Emergency Food Shelf, the Summer Food Program and the new Hinesburg Rides program.

Friends of Family programs are designed to support new families and growing children. These programs include weekly Play Group at town hall, Mother Goose Literacy programs, the annual Welcome Baby Brunch, Welcome Baby Visits, the Children's Clothing Giveaway, and New Mom Support Group. Brandy Thorpe and Elly Coates co-coordinate these services with energy and enthusiasm. Ginny Roberts recently resigned from her position as coordinator but continues to work with the New Mom's Group. A group of parent volunteers serve as an Advisory Board for these programs.

HCRC also supports the Emergency Food Shelf. Through the dedication and hard work of Doug and Nancy Gunnerson, the Food Shelf serves an average of 71 families each month. The Summer Food Program works with the Hinesburg Community School to provide two meals a day for the 45 enrolled youngsters in the four-week Summer Fun Program.

Hinesburg Rides, spearheaded by the tireless Karla Munson, has 12 volunteer drivers, and Ed Sengle is leading the Commuter ride share program called The Way To Go.

HCRC also has emergency funds available for families in need. With the combination of a grant from SCHIP and her role as Town Service Officer, Kathleen is able to guide residents in family emergencies.

The Hinesburg Community Resource Center is funded by the town budget, funds from Building Bright Futures and local grants.

Kathleen welcomes communication and questions concerning all these resources and can be reached at 482-2716 or 238-5025 or by email at kmpatten@gmavt.net.

Lions Club News

CVU senior Philip Burgin Young of St. George was presented with a Vermont Lions Organization Hart Scholarship on May 20 for his outstanding record in school academics and sports despite his ongoing diabetes condition. Danielle Coulombe, Lions scholarship committee, made the presentation. Philip's parents, Eileen and George Young, attended the presentation made at the Lions' regular Tuesday evening meeting. Philip will attend Dartmouth this fall.

Hinesburg Lions presented a certificate in April to the Saputo organization to thank the business and employees for their continued support of the Lions' Annual Valentine Fundraiser. Presenting the certificate was Lion President Dean Woodruff at right. Plant Manager Tim Herbick (center) received the certificate as Production Manager Rodney Mills looked on.

"Make new friends but keep thy old, one is silver and the other gold. The following is a list of returning and new seasonal vendors for the 2008 season. So come on down to renew old friendships and create some new ones. All products available at the Market are locally grown, baked or made.

The Last Resort - certified organic vegetables, berries and sunflowers; Jing Ji's Foods - Chinese egg rolls, dumplings and specialties; Pleasant Mt. Farms and Three Hungry Boys Bakery - breads, cookies, perennials and plants; Still-At-It Farm - vegetables, quick breads, maple candy and lawn chairs; Walker's Vt Pure Maple Syrup - maple syrup; Tamaja Creations - pies, baked goods, jams and salsa; Sunflower Soaps – soaps, lotions and body care products; Ladybug Gardening - vegetables, herbs, cut flowers; mint tea and matted pressed flowers and photos; Maple Wind Farm grass fed and organic meat , poultry and eggs, grilled hamburgers, sausages and side salads; Jenny Hermenze shirts and scarves hand-dyed and decorated with Japanese stencil dyeing; Backdoor Bakery - croissants, turnovers, bagels, Danish, tarts, cakes cream puffs and desert bars; Samosaman Natural Foods - samosas and prepared foods; Nick and Hannah's Fresh Squeezed Lemonade - lemonade, limeade and strawberry and raspberry versions; Boutin Family Farm – berries, vegetables, chocolate covered berries; Gizmo's Pickled Plus - horseradish, pickles, jams, hummus, hot mama's; Bee Happy Vermont - bees wax candles and ornaments and honey; Free Range Pottery - functional and decorative pottery; and Stonefox Jewelry - beaded jewelry and wood blocks and toys

Are you craving fresh local lettuce, asparagus, spinach, rhubarb, radishes, herbs or beets? Has it been a while since you have had some fresh out-of-the-oven homemade bread, cookies or pie and graced your table with fresh cut flowers? This year the Market will have an even larger variety of fresh local produce, meats, prepared foods, flowers, plants, and entertainment for the whole family.

On June 27th, The Green Mountain Celts will perform on stage from 5:00 to 6:00 at the Richmond Farmers' Market. Celebrate traditional Celtic music performed on the great highland bagpipes, Scottish small pipes and the bodhran. Joanne and Terry Ranney, Richmond residents, will entertain all Celtic music fans and Patrick Webb will accompany them with his Irish tenor voice.

The Market is open from 3:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Volunteers Green in Richmond. Come and meet your Local Growers and Buy Local. For further information, contact Carol Mader at 434-5273 or cmader@surfglobal.net.

NeighborKeepers

By Ann Janda, Development and Marketing

Want to meet interesting people, have fun, and make a difference in your community? Join a "Circle of Support" by volunteering at NeighborKeepers, a non-profit, anti-poverty organization in Burlington, Vermont.

As of 2005 there were approximately 5,800 single women raising their children in poverty in Vermont. Hal Colston, the creator of the Good News Garage, founded NeighborKeepers to address this need and to strengthen our community one family at a time.

How do we strengthen community? Each Circle of Support consists of a family struggling to increase resources and a team of friends (allies), volunteers recruited from the community, who offer their support and guidance. Participants (community members) and volunteers (allies) work together to eliminate barriers to success in a supportive environment, investing in the transformative power of positive social networks to build an inclusive community where patterns of isolation and dependence are broken down.

In addition, Community Leadership Meetings are held on Thursdays and are open to the public. Meetings are fun, interactive, and educational and no commitment is required.

To learn more about the NeighborKeepers Circle of Support program, go to www.neighborkeepers.org or call Karin Brenin at 802-846-7294.

Huntington's Valley Stage Music Festival to Go GREEN

The third annual Valley Stage Music Festival will take place at Blackbird Swale in Huntington on Saturday, August 16 from 12:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. This year's lineup will feature Grammy nominees the Duhks; returning favorites Rani Arbo and daisy mayhem; the Bristol, Vermont native and fast rising singer/songwriter Anais Mitchell; and Lewis Franco and the Missing Cats with Susannah Blachly. There will also be Cape Breton fiddle playing provided by Duncan Yandell of Williston between sets.

The concert will have a "green" theme this year. It will be solar powering the stage, using biodegradable utensils and has invited business and organizations with sustainability missions to sponsor the event and participate with informational booths and demonstrations. Exhibitors will include the ECHO Center, Green Mountain Power, NOFA (Northern Organic Farmers Assoc) and others. Brighter Planet will conduct a carbon footprint analysis of the event itself.

Food vendors and beverages will be on site throughout the day. Face painting will also be available.

"Early Bird" tickets for the show are $20/adult and $50/family (two adults and children under 16) until July 1.

Advance tickets are $25/adult and $60/family. Day of the event prices are $30/adult and $70/family. Check the website (www.valleystage.net) for details or contact Don Sheldon at 434-4563 for ticket information and directions.

Families get into the spirit of the music from Rani Arbo and daisy mayhem at the 2007 Valley Stage music festival.

Vermont Lightning 13U Sweeps Girl's AAU State Championship

By Kathy Wells

The Vermont Lightning Girl's 13U Black team went 5–0 to win the 2008 AAU Vermont State Championship held at UVM on May 3rd and 4th. The team will now move on to the Nationals, to be held in Hampton, Virginia in early July.

The Vermont Lightning team advanced to Sunday's quarterfinal game by going 2-0 in pool play on Saturday afternoon. The team dominated Sunday's quarterfinal and semi-final games, holding their opponents to 25 points while tallying 110 points with 28 assists and 34 steals. In the championship game against a talented Rail City Blazer team, the Lightning girls played a tenacious pressing defense and executed their offense down the stretch in a 48-39 victory. In the championship game the team was led offensively by Liz Maglione 13 points, Ali Wells 10 points (4-4 from the foul line in the last 1:30 minutes) and Taylor Goldsborough's double/double, 14 points and 12 rebounds. The defensive charge was led by guards Elana Bayer-Pacht (5 steals), Marissa Stavros and Sofia Lozon. Throughout the weekend significant contributions where made by each team member including; forwards Isabella Esposito, Delanie Cynewski, Lazrin Schenck, Rebecca Spittle, and Arianna Manazir as well as injured guard Beth Pidgeon.

On both ends of the floor this team plays an "attack" style of basketball, emphasizing toughness, rebounding and offensive execution. "You have to be a tough-minded kid to play here" commented Coaches Mike Wells and Kim Cynewski. "The environment is one of tough love. Everyone is pushed and Everyone is loved...no exceptions. We are all about being a team. We use sayings such as 'together', 'working hard every day to get better', 'every minute, every game'. The girls seem to really buy into this philosophy and have formed a tremendous bond with each other both on and off the court".

The Lightning 13U team is comprised of 7th and 8th grade girls from the Chittenden County area. Many of these girls have been together for three and a half years. During this time, the team has participated in 123 games, 30 AAU Sanctioned tournaments. Their overall record is 89-34 and to date they have won nine tournaments throughout the Northeast and New York.

Libby Parent Named IWLCA All Region

Libby Parent (of Hinesburg) of the Southern New Hampshire University women's lacrosse team was named to the Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches Association (IWLCA) Division II North All-Region Team. Kraus was a First Team selection, while Parent was named to the Second Team. Kraus and Parent are now eligible to be named to the IWLCA/US Lacrosse All-America Team, was announced in May.

Parent, who was also an NE-10 First Team selection, led SNHU in scoring, registering 48 goals and 28 assists for 76 points this season. In the process, she set a single-season school record for points in a season. She recorded at least one goal in all 18 games this season and failed to score multiple goals in a game just four times, notching a season-high five goals apiece in games against Bates and Bryant. During the season, she became SNHU's all-time leading scorer and has registered 125 goals and 60 assists for 185 points over her first three seasons.

Southern New Hampshire finished the 2008 season with a school-record 12 victories as it posted a 12-6 record and advanced to the Northeast-10 championship game for the first time in program history. The Penmen were ranked 10th in the final IWLCA poll.

Parent was named to the ESPN The Magazine/College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Women's At-Large All-District College Division First Team. She was only one of two student-athletes to be named to the First Team from a Division II institution, is now eligible for Academic All-America honors.

CoSIDA selects Academic All-America teams in 12 programs, including the Women's At-Large program. Student-athletes from 13 women's sports are eligible: bowling, crew, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, rifle, skiing, swimming, tennis and water polo. The College Division consists of NCAA Division II and III institutions as well as NAIA institutions.

Parent is a Marketing major who is carrying a double minor in Communications and Public Relations. She has compiled a 3.94 GPA and is also a two-time Northeast-10 All-Academic Team.

awarded an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Saint Michael's College at commencement ceremonies May 15, 2008, on the campus of the liberal arts residential Catholic college, which is located in the Burlington area of Vermont.

Dr. Heinrich is a famed naturalist, marathoner, and author. He is acclaimed around the world for his profound attention to the natural world, his publications for scholars and for general interest readers, and his research. He is additionally known as an ultra-marathoner of 62-mile races, which talent earned him entry into the Maine Running Hall of Fame in 1996 and the Maine Sportsmen's Hall of Fame in 2000.

The honorary degree citation, read by Saint Michael's Professor of Biology Valerie Banschbach, outlined some of Heinrich's many accomplishments. He was cited for "his contribution to the scientific understanding of the connection between observing nature in the field and in the laboratory."

Additionally, the citation read: "His profound attention to the natural world has expanded in-depth knowledge of the behavior of a wide array of natural life including habits of ravens, weasels, antelope, caterpillars, beetles, butterflies, wasps, nuthatches, honeybees, bumblebees, dragonflies, and more. His work has expanded understanding of bee colonies, the social organization of ravens, and general understanding of cognition."

Professor Heinrich's many publications include Ravens in Winter, The Hot Blood Insects: Strategies and Mechanisms of Insect Thermoregulation; The Thermal Warriors: Strategies of Insect Survival; The Trees in My Forest; Racing The Antelope; The Winter World; The Ravens' Behavioral Association with Wolves. His book, In a Patch of Fireweed, won the L.L. Winship Book Award in 1984; his An Owl in the House won the Burroughs Award in 1991; his A Year in the Maine Woods won the Rutstrom Authorship Award for Conservation and Environmental Writing in 1996, and Mind of the Raven won the John Burroughs Medal for Nature Writing in 2002.

Have some free time? Looking for a way to help in your community? The Champlain Valley Agency on Aging (CVAA) is looking for a volunteer in the Huntington Area to visit with an elder once a week and perhaps go for walks. If you have an hour or two per week, we want to introduce you to a senior looking for companionship.

Our mission at CVAA is "helping people age with independence and dignity." We serve people 60 and over in Addison, Chittenden, Franklin, and Grand Isle counties. Volunteers are an important, much appreciated part of our staff and help up provide vital services that enhance the lives of seniors in our communities. Our valued volunteers provide companionship and support through a variety of activates such as friendly chats, balancing checkbooks, grocery shopping, reading, running errands, going on outings, etc. The schedule is flexible and the rewards for both the volunteer and senior are enormous.

Today, we are looking for a volunteer in Huntington; tomorrow we may need friendly visitors in another town. For more information about these and other volunteer opportunities, call Katie Letourneau at 1-800-642-5119.

The Top Chef of the Champlain Valley An Iron Chef Experience

The Champlain Valley Agency on Aging (CVAA) is bringing the hottest trend to Burlington. The 2nd Annual Top Chef of the Champlain Valley, an Iron Chef Experience will be held August 18 from 6-8:30 p.m. at the Davis Center at UVM to benefit CVAA's Meals on Wheels and Case Management Programs.

Watch as three top local chefs go head to head creating gourmet culinary creations. Vying for the Top Chef title are David Hoene of Pauline's Café, Connie Jacobs-Warden of Chow!Bella, and Sam Palisano of Pulcinella's. Hoene brings over 20 years of experience embracing the use of local Vermont products and infusing fresh ideas using varied ingredients, seasonings and sauces. Jacobs-Warden describes her restaurant as Mediterranean with an American accent. She began her culinary career at Piaf's Bistro in Boston's Wilbur Theater. Palisano beat 5000 other chefs by taking 1st Place at the National Restaurant Associations' Annual Meeting Culinary Competition in 2001.

Sean Buchanan of Vermont Public Television's "Feast in the Making" and Executive Chef of the Stowe Mountain Lodge will emcee and Carolyn Malcoun of "Eating Well Magazine" will be one of the judges. A selection of wines and local beers will be available at a free tasting to demonstrate what types of drinks can be paired with the chef's creations and how to cook with beer and wine. Music will be provided by Trinity. Silent Auction items will feature many gourmet food products, restaurant gift certificates, cooking lessons, spa (Continued on the next page.)

Artists Sought for Musical Chairs

The Vermont Youth Orchestra Association (VYOA) is seeking artists for their fundraiser, "Musical Chairs". The actual Musical Chairs Exhibit and Silent Auction will be held on Friday, November 7. The "Musical Chairs" event marks the culmination of an online auction of over 100 items taking place during the month of October. Artist chairs may be featured within the online auction in order to gain starting bids.

From now until October 1, VYOA is seeking artists to donate a "music inspired", one-of-a-kind, embellished or decorated chair to the auction. Artists working in all mediums are encouraged to participate. All proceeds from the sale of the musical chairs will directly benefit the programs of the VYOA, including orchestras, choruses and music camps.

Details for Artists:

- Donated chairs for artists to paint or embellish in any medium are available for pick-up at the Elley-Long Music Center at Saint Michael's College, located in Fort Ethan Allen in Colchester. Artists may drop in between 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, to select a chair and register to participate in the event.
- Artists are asked to be mindful that this event is youthoriented when executing their designs.
- All chairs must be completed no later than October 1. Contact the VYOA at (802) 655-5030 or info@vyo.org to arrange the drop-off for completed chairs. Please plan to submit an artist bio and the source of inspiration for your Musical Chair at this time.

For additional questions or information, contact Lisamarie Charlesworth Director of Marketing, Vermont Youth Orchestra Association at (802) 655-5030 or lisamarie@vyo.org.

Go Green! Recycle Your Old Car!

Now is a good time to "Go Green" and recycle your old car by donating it to Cars4Charities. You can complete the entire donation process online 24/7 at www.cars4charities.org. In addition to being convenient, the online option is better for the environment since it reduces the use of paper and other consumables. Donated cars that need significant repair are completely recycled. Others are sold for repair and reuse.

Cars4Charities handles the entire donation process and can have your car picked up in a matter of days, free of charge. The proceeds from your car will be used to help one of over 1,000 charities, including Prevent Cancer, Autism Speaks, National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, and area food banks, homeless shelters, etc.

In addition to helping a very needy charity, you will be eligible for a tax deduction of up to $500 or what your car is sold for, whichever is greater. Complete details are available at the website listed above or (866) 448-3487 (GIVE-4-US).

Cliff Tops and Overlooks Closed to Protect Nesting Peregrines

Hiking Vermont's hillsides is a great way to enjoy a warm summer day, but the Vermont Fish and Wildlife Department recommends you check to see if the area you're planning to hike or climb is open. Nine cliff areas are currently closed to protect nesting peregrine falcons.

"The areas closed include the portions of the cliffs where the birds are nesting and the trails leading to the cliff tops or overlooks," said Doug Blodgett, Vermont Fish and Wildlife Department biologist. "In many cases the lower portions of the trails are still open."

Cliff areas or portions of cliff areas currently closed

Hikers should look for these cliff closure signs to avoid disturbing nesting peregrine falcons.

closed

- Bolton Notch in Bolton trial below cliff is open, but cliff access is closed
- Rattlesnake Point in Salisbury overlooks are closed
- Mt. Horrid in Goshen/Rochester Great Cliff lookout is closed
- Snake Mountain in Addison cliff top south of pond is closed all trails are open
- Smuggler's Notch in Cambridge roadside access to cliff southeast of Elephant Head is closed
- Marshfield Mountain in Marshfield cliff access is closed

"We have observed peregrine nesting activity at over 30 sites this spring," said Blodgett. "We only closed the cliffs where there's the chance of people disturbing the nesting birds. The areas will remain closed until August 1, but if a falcon pair doesn't nest or if the nest is not successful, the areas will be reopened."

Updated information on cliff closures is listed on the Vermont Fish and Wildlife Department website: www.vtfishandwildlife.com or by calling (802) 241-3700. You can report peregrine sightings by calling or emailing fwinformation@state.vt.us.

U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum Exhibition to Visit Vermont

For the first time a traveling exhibition from the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum (USHMM) will be shown in Vermont. The Holocaust Museum's traveling exhibition, "Nazi Persecution of Homosexuals: 1933-1945," will be on public display for all Vermonters at UVM's Living/Learning Center Gallery from August 18 until September 30. Through reproductions of some 250 historic photographs and documents, the exhibit examines the rationale, means and impact of the Nazi regime's attempt to eradicate homosexuality that left thousands dead and shattered the lives of many more.

The USHMM states: Between 1933 and 1945 Nazi Germany sought domination over Europe and, in what is now called the Holocaust, the total annihilation of Europe's Jews. As part of its effort to create a "master Aryan race," the Nazi government persecuted other groups, including Germany's homosexual men. Believing them to be carriers of a "degeneracy" that threatened the nation's "disciplined masculinity" and hindered population growth, the Nazi state incarcerated in prisons and concentration camps tens of thousands of men as a means of terrorizing German homosexuals into social conformity.

The exhibition will be free and open to the public beginning on Monday, August 18. A special Opening Reception hosted by Outright Vermont is to be held on August 21, starting at 6:00 pm. Tickets and sponsorship information will be forthcoming. A reception for the university community and the general public will be held in September.

Green Mountain Club Campaign Announcement

At its ninety eighth annual meeting on Saturday, May 31, the Green Mountain Club (GMC) announced that its Second Century Campaign surpassed its minimum goal of raising $5.25 million. "This campaign has gone a long way to ensure that the Long Trail will be around for another hundred years" said GMC Executive Director Ben Rose. "Specifically, the campaign has increased the club's endowments for trail and shelter maintenance and stewardship, prepared GMC for future land acquisition opportunities to secure public access to the last seven miles of the trail which remain in private ownership, and put us in a position to rebuild our visitor center."

Support for the Green Mountain Club's Second Century Campaign came from more than 700 donors. Leading corporate and foundation supporters included Green Mountain Coffee Roasters Foundation, Casella Waste Systems, Carris Reels Foundation, Jane's Trust, Peregrine Outfitters, Laticrete International, Vermont Country Store, and Sugarbush Resort. Senator Patrick Leahy secured a $270,000 federal economic development appropriation towards rebuilding the Visitor Center.

Construction is currently underway. J.A. Morrisey is the construction manager. Timber framing services are being donated by Erik and Laurel Tobiasen of Woodstock. "Not only is this going to be a much-needed addition of space for GMC activities, it is also going to be a model environmental education facility for our members and the general public," said Pete Antos-Ketcham, GMC Facilities Manager. "The design includes great insulation, efficient lighting, biomass heating, composting toilets, locally harvested and milled timber. This will be a great home base for managing the Long Trail in the future."

The Green Mountain Club will accept donations to the campaign through June 30. To learn more about the Second Century Campaign, contact Shawn Keeley, GMC Director of Development, at (802) 244-7037 x33. For general or membership information about GMC, refer to www.greenmountainclub.org.

More Ticks May Not Mean More Lyme Disease Cases

State of Vermont Entomologist Jon Turmel walked 20

Foundation plantings, perennial gardens feet along the Connecticut River valley in St. Johnsbury this spring and picked up 30 to 40 ticks on his pant leg. Turmel concluded the tick population in the area was "extreme." "We usually drag a sheet beside us as we walk in order to see how many ticks jump on it, but in some areas this year all I've had to do is walk around," Turmel said. "I've never seen it like this."

A greater tick population does not necessarily mean that there is an increased risk of becoming infected with Lyme Disease, according to Patsy Kelso, an epidemiologist for the Vermont Department of Health. Lyme disease is only transmitted by the bite of black-legged ticks known as a deer ticks. Both the Health Department and the Agency of Agriculture have reported a surge in calls from people asking about ticks. Turmel said that early in the spring he saw a few deer ticks, but the predominant tick in Vermont right now seems to be the dog tick.

"It is nearly impossible for someone to see the difference between a dog tick or a deer tick," Kelso said, "What's important is that people use common-sense preventive measures like wearing insect repellent and to know the symptoms of Lyme disease. Even if a tick with Lyme bites you, they usually have to be attached for more than 24 hours before the disease can be transmitted."

The first sign of Lyme disease is often a rash that begins at the site of the tick bite. The rash usually begins severn to 14 days after the tick was removed, but sometimes takes up to 30 days to appear. Other symptoms of Lyme disease include fatigue, headache, fever, chills, swollen lymph nodes, and muscle and joint pain.

Lyme disease can be successfully treated with antibiotics, especially if treatment is given early. Left untreated, Lyme disease may affect other parts of the body, including the heart and nervous system.

To prevent exposure to ticks:

- Avoid areas with a lot of ticks. Ticks prefer wooded and bushy areas with high grass and a lot of leaf litter.
- Control ticks around your home. Remove leaf litter, tall grass, and brush. Place wood chips or gravel between lawns and wooded areas.
- Keep ticks off your skin. Wear long pants, long sleeves and long socks. Light colored clothing will help you spot ticks more easily. Tuck your pants into your socks.
- Use insect repellent containing DEET or permethrin, following the instructions on the label. Check yourself, your children and your pets for ticks daily and carefully and promptly remove ticks. Daily tick checks and prompt removal of ticks can prevent infection.

For more information on Lyme disease and ticks, including how to properly remove a tick, visit the Health Department's website at www. healthvermont.gov.

youth turkey hunt and the regular May 1 to 31 season. On May 21 the Fish and Wildlife Department received reports of hunters taking 612 turkeys during youth weekend, eclipsing the previous record of 544 in 2007. The department also had received reports of hunters taking 2,735 turkeys in the May season, up 30 percent over an average of the number of turkeys taken on the same reporting day in the previous three years.

Vermont was the first New England state to re-establish wild turkeys when it stocked 31 birds in 1969 and 1970. Today, the Green Mountain State has an estimated 50,000 turkeys. Vermont's wild turkey restoration program is a wildlife management success story funded entirely by hunters through the sale of hunting licenses and a federal tax on hunting equipment. Now hunters are reaping the benefits by seeing excellent turkey hunting and all Vermonters are enjoying watching the big birds as they roam hillsides they had been absent from for almost a century.

To find out more about wild turkey hunting in Vermont, contact the Vermont Fish and Wildlife Department, at (802) 241-3700 or check in at their website www.vtfishandwildlife.com.

Low Carbon Diet

By Rosalyn Graham

The title of the lecture catches attention: "The Low Carbon Diet: A 30 Day Program to Lose 5,000 Pounds." The message of Wes Sanders' lecture is even more attention-grabbing: people working in small groups in their own neighborhoods or churches can have an impact on global warming.

At the fourth in a series of lectures entitled "Voices for the Environment" sponsored this spring by All Souls Interfaith Gathering in Shelburne, Sanders began with the big picture - renowned scientists speaking out about the threat of global change brought about by a lifestyle that relies on heavy consumption of cheap energy, the specter of droughts, floods, insect borne diseases, arable land turning to desert, social unrest arising from famine. He quoted the work of Lester Brown, founder of World Watch Institute who studies the climate situation and who has said the world needs to cut greenhouse gases to drastically to move from the current 384 parts per million of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere to the historical level of 350 parts per million.

Sanders admitted that the usual response to such daunting numbers is to go into denial - "that's too big a problem for us, or our church, or our race to have any effect."

Wes Sanders of Vermont Interfaith Power & Light spoke recently in the Voices for the Environment series at All Souls Interfaith Gathering in Shelburne, introducing the grass-roots strategy for fighting global climate change known as The Low Carbon Diet. PHOTO BY LAURIE BURKE.

His reaction to the daunting numbers is to encourage a grassroots action, both on the personal level, reducing the carbon footprint of individual homes and churches, while also speaking out demanding action that will affect the large scale producers of carbon dioxide. "People in high places are taking notice, but we people in our communities will have to make a lot of noise," he said.

"Actually, when it comes to who is responsible for global warming, it turns out that we as consumers are responsible for 40%," he said. "It's what we buy, the cars we drive, how we heat our houses. Put it all together and we in the United States, 4 or 5% of the world's population, generate 25% of the greenhouse gases."

"The Low Carbon Diet" is a book by David Gershorn, and it is the user-friendly textbook used by small community or church-based groups organized by Sanders to fight global warming on a very local and personal level. The book describes household and community actions that add up to a significant impact on CO2 emissions – from changing light bulbs to compact fluorescents to installing an on-demand water heater.

"We encourage people to work on lifestyle changes, systems in your house, and then involving the community, your school, your business, in making changes," Sanders said. He described the EcoTeam strategy in which small groups of about eight people, preferably neighbors or co-workers (to reduce the amount of driving to go to meetings) who agree to get together on a regular schedule to follow the prescribed steps in the book beginning with calculating their own household carbon footprint and then sharing ways of reducing it.

"The reason this works is that it's social," Sanders said. "There's fun involved but there's also the shared expertise and wisdom of the group. Fourteen heads are better than one."

There is also the satisfaction of seeing the multiplier effect of everyone taking action, he said. "If you calculate that replacing one incandescent bulb saves 100 pounds of carbon dioxide, then replacing 25 bulbs saves 2,500 pounds and that's quite a lot."

He also pointed out that peer pressure helps everyone succeed. "It's peer accountability," he said.

Vermont Interfaith Power and Light which Sanders represents was founded as a non-profit under the sponsorship of Vermont Ecumenical Council several years ago when they passed a resolution to care for Creation. All Souls Interfaith Gathering in Shelburne has included environmental stewardship in its mission statement and sponsored the Voices for the Environment Series as a way of raising the awareness of the community and its members. Laurie Burke, organizer of the lecture series and a member of the All Souls Board of Directors, says that the challenge issued by Sanders in his June 5 lecture, will undoubtedly spark the formation of at least one "Diet" group beginning in the fall, and that they hope that Sanders will return to launch that program. In the meantime, she encourages people to call All Souls at 985-3819 for information about Evensong services, children's programs, and to be added to the mailing list for future lectures.
